LEADING INDIA'S EXPRESS LOGISTICS TRANSFORMATION

Dear Shareholders,

It gives me immense pleasure to present the Annual Report of TCI Express for 2025-26, a year marked by disciplined growth, strategic progress and operational excellence. Our Theme for the year, "Express Expansion. Precision in Every Direction.", encapsulates the philosophy that continues to guide our journey. It reflects TCI EXpress ability to expand our network, services and capabilities while maintaining the precision, reliability and execution excellence that have become synonymous with the TCI legacy.

Over the years, we have built a strong foundation rooted in customer trust, operational discipline and financial prudence. During FY 2025-26, your Company crossed significant milestone of ₹1,000 Crores asset base, reflecting the strength of our business model and the resilience of its operations. This achievement is not merely a financial milestone; it represents years of consistent execution, a relentless focus on customer service and collective efforts of our employees & stakeholders.

India's Infrastructure-Led Growth Story

India continues to reinforce its position as one of the world's fastest-growing major economies, supported by strong domestic demand, sustained investments and a rapidly expanding manufacturing ecosystem. The Government's continued focus on infrastructure creation through initiatives such as PM GatiShakti, Bharatmala, Dedicated Freight Corridors and airport modernisation is strengthening the nation's transportation backbone and improving supply chain efficiency.

At the same time, the rapid expansion of sectors such as automotive, pharmaceuticals, electronics, textile, defence, engineering, solar and electric vehicles is driving increasing demand for faster, more reliable and integrated logistics solutions. As businesses seek greater supply chain agility, shorter delivery cycles and enhanced inventory efficiency, express logistics is emerging as a critical enabler of economic growth and industrial competitiveness.

The increasing preference for organised logistics solutions, coupled with the growing adoption of multimodal transportation, is creating significant opportunities for the express delivery industry. With its extensive network, multimodal capabilities and customer-centric approach, TCI Express is strategically positioned to support India's evolving logistics requirements while participating meaningfully in the country's long-term growth journey.

Expanding Capabilities Across Every Mode

The year witnessed continued progress across our service portfolio as we strengthened TCI Express position as India's leading B2B express delivery company. Our growth strategy remained focused on expanding capabilities, enhancing service offerings, widening reach, accelerating network expansion across geographies and high-growth sectors, creating a differentiated customer experience through speed, reliability and operational excellence.

We further strengthened our multimodal logistics platform, delivering seamless connectivity across Surface, Rail, Air and International Express services. Rail Express gained momentum through expanding corridor connectivity, while Domestic Air Express enhanced its network for time-sensitive shipments. International Air Express broadened its global reach, enabling customers to access international markets through integrated logistics solutions.

With advanced sorting infrastructure and technology-enabled operations, we remain focused on enhancing service quality and operational efficiency across every touchpoint. As customer expectations continue to evolve, our objective remains clear — to build a future-ready express logistics platform capable of delivering consistent value, superior service standards and long-term customer partnerships.

Growth Anchored in Financial and Operational Discipline

At TCI Express, growth has always been accompanied by discipline. While pursuing expansion opportunities, we have remained committed to prudent capital allocation, operational efficiency and financial resilience.

We continued to invest in infrastructure, technology and network enhancement while maintaining its debt-free status. This disciplined approach has enabled us to fund growth through internal accruals, preserve financial flexibility and strengthen our competitive positioning. By balancing expansion with financial prudence, your Company have created a scalable and resilient business model capable of generating sustainable value across economic cycles.

Embedding Sustainability into Growth

Sustainability remains an integral component of our long-term growth strategy. We firmly believe that responsible business practices are essential for creating enduring value and building a future-ready organisation. As we continue to expand our operations, we remain committed to reducing its environmental footprint while strengthening resource efficiency across the value chain.

During the year, your Company advanced its environmental stewardship initiatives through focused efforts in emissions reduction, renewable energy adoption, waste management and sustainable infrastructure development. Our decarbonisation efforts included the deployment of electric vehicles, CNG-powered fleets, greater utilisation of rail transportation and the progressive transition towards BS VI-compliant vehicles. We continued to follow the principles of Reduce, Reuse and Recycle through responsible waste management practices undertaken in compliance with applicable regulatory requirements.

TCI Express also commissioned a 110-kWp rooftop solar installation at the Medchal sorting centre, taking total installed solar capacity across Medchal, Tajnagar and Pune to 990 kWp. Furthermore, sustainable infrastructure practices, including the use of EPD-certified construction materials and recycled water at selected facilities, reinforced our commitment to responsible growth and environmental sustainability. These initiatives reflect Company's belief that economic progress and environmental responsibility must advance together.

The Future of Express Logistics

The Indian express delivery industry stands at the threshold of a transformative growth phase. Rising manufacturing activity, expanding domestic consumption, increasing formalisation of supply chains, growing e-commerce penetration and the shift towards just-in-time inventory management are creating significant opportunities for organised logistics providers.

The continued development of multimodal infrastructure, logistics parks, Dedicated Freight Corridors and airport cargo facilities is expected to enhance transportation efficiency and strengthen the overall logistics ecosystem. Simultaneously, technology, automation, artificial intelligence and sustainability will continue to redefine industry standards and customer expectations.

Against this backdrop, TCI Express remains well-positioned to capitalise on emerging opportunities. Our debt-free balance sheet, nationwide network, multimodal capabilities, technology-led operations and customer-centric culture provide a strong foundation for future growth. As we move ahead, we will continue to invest in innovation, infrastructure and service excellence while maintaining our unwavering focus on customer satisfaction, operational efficiency and sustainable value creation.

Acknowledgement and Appreciation

On behalf of the Board, I extend my sincere gratitude to our shareholders for their continued trust and confidence in TCI Express. I would also like to thank TCI Express customers, employees, business partners, bankers, regulators and all other stakeholders whose unwavering support has been instrumental in our success.

With warm regards,

D. P. Agarwal
Chairman
TCI Express Limited

Dear Shareholders,

The year 2025-26 was marked by a dynamic operating environment characterised by evolving customer expectations, shifting trade patterns, geopolitical uncertainties and increasing demand for faster, more reliable supply chain solutions. Amid these challenges, India's express delivery sector continued to benefit from expanding manufacturing activity, infrastructure investments and growing formalisation of supply chains.

With this foundation in place, our priorities remained clear—building growth momentum, strengthening our multimodal logistics platform, deepening customer relationships, improving operational efficiency, and creating long-term value for all stakeholders.

Executing Growth Across Every Vertical

During the year, we continued to strengthen our leadership position in India's B2B express delivery industry through focused execution across all business verticals. Your Company diversified service portfolio and multimodal capabilities enabled us to respond effectively to evolving customer requirements while delivering reliable and time-definite logistics solutions.

Surface Express continued to be the largest contributor to our business, supported by customer additions, expanding industrial demand and improved execution across key markets. We further strengthened our last-mile delivery network through strategic branch additions, enhancing its reach and responsiveness across regions.

Rail Express continued its strong growth trajectory, driven by rising adoption of rail-based cargo movement, dedicated rail operations on key long-haul corridors and consistent service reliability. Today, the business serves more than 5,000 customers across 165+ route presences, reinforcing its position as a critical growth engine for the Company.

Our Domestic Air Express business delivered healthy growth through improved airport connectivity, route optimisation initiatives and increasing movement from pharmaceutical and temperature-sensitive cargo segments. International Air Express further strengthened its global reach through customer additions, international partnerships and cargo consolidation initiatives, enabling us to serve larger and more specialised cargo requirements.

The C2C Express segment maintained healthy momentum through higher Express Full Trucking (EFT) movement and growing traction across industrial customers, while our E-Commerce Express business benefitted with increasing volumes from D2C brands, marketplace sellers and last-mile delivery operations across key metropolitan markets.

A significant operational milestone during the year was the commencement of enhanced operations at our upgraded Nagpur sorting centre. The facility has strengthened processing capabilities, improved cargo handling efficiency and enabled faster turnaround times, further enhancing network productivity and service reliability.

Delivering Consistent Financial Performance

Our financial performance reflects the strength of TCI Express disciplined operating model and our ability to balance growth with profitability. Despite a challenging business environment, we remained focused on cost discipline, operational efficiency and prudent capital allocation.

The year marked a significant milestone in the Company's growth journey, as it crossed the ₹1,000 crore balance sheet threshold and handled over one million tonnes of cargo. The Company reported total income from operations of ₹1,236.16 Crores, while maintaining an EBITDA of ₹146.02 Crores and an EBITDA margin of 11.68%. Profit after tax stood at ₹89.84 Crores, translating into a PAT margin of 7.19%, while earnings per share stood at ₹23.39.

Strong financial position enabled us to maintain a debt-free balance sheet, one of the defining strengths of our business model. We continued to generate healthy cash flows while preserving financial flexibility to support future investments. During the year, shareholders' equity increased to ₹828.8 Crores, while ROCE stood at 14.53% and RONW at 11.24%, reflecting our focus on efficient capital utilisation.

We invested ₹67 Crores towards network expansion, infrastructure development, automation and technology enhancement. This took our cumulative investment under the ongoing expansion programme to ₹269 Crores, reinforcing our commitment to building future-ready capabilities.

Deepening Customer Relationships Across Growth Sectors

Customer trust remains the foundation of our success. Over the years, we have built a diversified customer portfolio spanning large enterprises, MSMEs and emerging businesses across multiple industries.

During the year, we strengthened our presence across pharmaceuticals, automotive, engineering, renewable energy, defence and consumer-oriented sectors. Pharmaceutical logistics continued to be one of our fastest-growing segments, supported by increasing demand for temperature-sensitive and time-critical cargo movement. The automotive sector remained a strong contributor, while emerging opportunities in EV, defence, aerospace and renewable energy further expanded our addressable market.

Our customer base grew to approximately 2.25 lakh customers, supported by our network of over 1,000 company-owned branches, coverage of 60,000+ delivery locations and service reach across 29,000+ pin codes. This extensive network enables us to deliver consistent service quality while strengthening customer relationships across India.

Technology: Driving Efficiency and Scale

Technology continues to be a critical enabler of operational excellence and competitive differentiation. As logistics networks become increasingly complex, our focus remains on leveraging technology to enhance productivity, visibility and customer experience.

Our fully automated sorting centres at Gurugram and Pune continued to deliver significant efficiency gains, processing up to 15,000 packages per hour and 11,000 packages per hour, respectively. These facilities have improved throughput, reduced turnaround times and enhanced operational accuracy.

During the year, we further strengthened our digital ecosystem through investments in ERP upgrades, process automation and integrated technology platforms. The implementation of the Airline Master Platform enhanced planning, shipment visibility and operational coordination within our Air Express business. We also strengthened cargo management capabilities across International Air Express through advanced technology integrations and strategic partnerships.

In parallel, we continued to invest in digital learning platforms, AI-enabled training tools and data-driven decision-making capabilities, enabling us to improve workforce productivity and build scalable operational excellence.

Investing in People, Advancing Sustainability and Enhancing Shareholder Value

At TCI Express, our people are the driving force behind our success. Their commitment, passion and customer-centric mindset enable us to consistently deliver excellence across our operations.

During the year, we continued to invest in leadership development, capability building and employee engagement initiatives aimed at creating a future-ready workforce. We strengthened our learning ecosystem through digital platforms and focused programmes designed to enhance professional growth and organisational effectiveness.

Our commitment to employee well-being, workplace safety and inclusive growth continues to remain a priority. I am particularly proud that TCI Express was recognised as a Great Place to Work for the sixth consecutive year, reflecting the strength of Company's culture and the trust our employees place in the organisation. Further reinforcing our commitment to quality, environmental stewardship and occupational health and safety, the Company successfully achieved ISO 9001:2015, ISO 14001:2015 and ISO 45001:2018 certifications during the year.

Beyond the workplace, through the TCI Express Foundation, we continued to make a meaningful social impact through initiatives such as Shiksha, Kavach, Samanta, Saksham and Paryavaran, focused on education, healthcare, community development, skill enhancement and environmental sustainability. During FY 2025-26, these initiatives positively impacted nearly 3,500 individuals from underserved communities, contributing to our vision of inclusive and sustainable development.

As a responsible logistics company, we remain focused on reducing our environmental footprint through cleaner and more efficient operations. During the year, we enhanced our renewable energy capacity, expanded the deployment of CNG and electric vehicles and increased the use of rail transportation, thereby improving energy efficiency and supporting our journey towards a low-carbon and sustainable future.

Your Company also remained committed to delivering consistent value to its shareholders through regular dividend payouts and continued efforts to enhance investor awareness regarding the timely claiming of unclaimed dividends and other shareholder entitlements through various investor outreach initiatives.

Strategic Imperatives for 2026-27 and Beyond

As we look ahead, our priorities remain focused on strengthening our multimodal logistics platform, accelerating technology adoption and deepening our presence across high-growth sectors.

We will continue to expand Rail Express corridor connectivity, strengthen Air Express capabilities and enhance our service offerings for industries such as pharmaceuticals, defence, renewable energy, engineering and electric vehicles. Investments in automation, artificial intelligence, digital platforms and network infrastructure will remain central to our growth strategy.

We also remain committed to advancing our sustainability agenda through renewable energy adoption, emissions reduction initiatives and resource-efficient operations. By integrating operational excellence, technology and sustainability, we aim to create a more agile, resilient and future-ready logistics organisation.

Delivering on Our Promise: The Money Back Guarantee

A defining differentiator in the Company's service offering is its Money Back Guarantee (MBG) — a contractual commitment to deliver on time or refund 100% of the freight charges. The MBG is not merely a service feature; it is a statement of operational confidence, underwritten by the Company's extensive company-owned network, technology-enabled tracking infrastructure and standardised delivery processes. For enterprise customers, the MBG translates into tangible supply chain reliability, removing the unpredictability that often characterises logistics partnerships. As the Company's network expands and technology investments deepen, the MBG will continue to serve as a cornerstone of customer trust and a competitive differentiator that reinforces TCI Express' positioning as India's most reliable B2B express logistics partner.

Closing Statement

India's express delivery industry is entering an exciting phase of transformation, supported by infrastructure development, manufacturing expansion and increasing adoption of organised supply chain solutions. We believe TCI Express is uniquely positioned to capitalise on these opportunities through its strong brand, extensive network, multimodal capabilities and customer-first approach.

I extend my sincere gratitude to our customers, employees, shareholders, business partners and all stakeholders for their continued trust and support. Their confidence inspires us to continuously innovate, improve and raise the standards of service excellence.

As we move forward, we remain committed to expanding our capabilities, strengthening leadership position and delivering precision at scale.

Case Study

REAL PARTNERSHIPS. PROVEN RESULTS. ENDURING IMPACT.

At TCI Express, customer success stories are the truest measure of operational excellence. The following case studies highlight how the Company's multimodal network, technology-enabled logistics platforms and customer-centric approach have delivered measurable value for businesses across geographies and industries.

INTERNATIONAL AIR EXPRESS

Case Study 1

Strategic Lane Optimisation for a Surat-Based Exporter

A trusted export partner in Gujarat was routing time-critical cargo destined for Toronto Pearson International Airport (YYZ), Canada, through Mumbai Airport — a channel that generated inflated airfreight costs and longer transit times due to the absence of direct flight connectivity. The TCI Express team conducted a strategic lane assessment and proposed a gateway shift to Delhi Airport (DEL), where direct flight schedules to Toronto were available. By leveraging the Company's optimised network at this alternative hub, TCI Express provided a highly competitive airfreight structure whilst significantly reducing transit turnaround times. The client transitioned its entire export operations to the new channel, enabling the Company to handle 26.5 tonnes of cargo seamlessly and reducing overall logistics spend.

Case Study 2

Breaking the Incumbent's Barrier for a US-Bound Exporter

A prominent client requiring end-to-end international air express door-to-door delivery services to the United States presented a competitive challenge — the client's incumbent logistics providers had established pricing and service benchmarks that needed to be matched and exceeded. The TCI Express team conducted a detailed analysis of the client's precise delivery timelines and US market compliance requirements, then engineered a customised pricing framework through optimised space allocation and consolidation strategies. The intervention delivered a 20% reduction in rates alongside superior service reliability, enabling the Company to win the account and manage the secure door-to-door movement of 18 tonnes of cargo, establishing a strong and recurring international air freight partnership.

DOMESTIC AIR EXPRESS

Case Study 1

Year-End Critical Deliveries for a National Food and Beverage Enterprise

A prominent food and beverage enterprise required critical year-end business deliveries to reach a nationwide network of dealers, distributors, central processing centres and CSD canteens within non-negotiable timelines. With the financial year-end closure at stake, the Company deployed a highly coordinated domestic air express logistics strategy, adhering strictly to predetermined transit schedules across this complex multi-point distribution network. Through meticulous planning and proactive network management, every shipment was delivered precisely on time — empowering the client to finalise its year-end operations without supply chain disruption and reinforcing TCI Express' capability to manage high-pressure, multi-point distribution programmes.

Case Study 2

Next-Day Delivery Mandate for a Leading Supply Chain Enterprise

A leading supply chain and enterprise client required strict next-day delivery commitments across a diverse array of end-customers and internal warehouse teams. TCI Express orchestrated a priority-driven logistics workflow ensuring zero transit deviations, flawlessly executing 82 time-critical shipments with each consignment reaching its destination within the promised next-day window. This performance safeguarded the client's internal operational efficiency whilst significantly strengthening its confidence in TCI Express as a dependable partner for premium, time-definite logistics.

Despite business growth, grid electricity consumption declined by 6.77%, with renewable energy accounting for approximately 20% of the total energy consumed.

Renewable Energy

A 110 kWp rooftop solar plant was commissioned at the Medchal sorting centre, increasing the total installed solar capacity to 990 kWp. During FY 2025–26, the solar installations generated 10,07,796 kWh of renewable electricity, avoiding an estimated 725 tCO_2e of Scope 2 emissions.

Continued investments in energy efficiency and renewable energy adoption supported the decarbonisation journey during the year. Scope 1 and Scope 2 emissions totalled 3,142 tCO_2e, while emissions intensity improved to 0.25 tCO_2e per ₹ million of turnover from 0.28 in the previous year.

Decarbonising Transportation

Low-emission transportation capabilities were further strengthened through the deployment of 214 CNG and 58 electric vehicles, representing 13.2% of the first- and last-mile delivery fleet. Greater utilisation of rail freight also helped avoid an estimated 1,439 tCO_2e of emissions compared with conventional diesel road transport.

Water Management

Responsible water stewardship remained a key priority through continued conservation and reuse initiatives. During FY 2025–26, water consumption stood at 23,905 KL, with approximately 2,415 KL of treated wastewater reused for non-potable applications. Rainwater harvesting systems further supported groundwater recharge, while none of the operations were located in water-stressed areas.

Resilience during Geopolitical Tensions

Despite a fragile global environment marked by geopolitical tensions, particularly the conflict in the middle east and trade fragmentation during FY 2025-26, India's economy has demonstrated strong resilience, supported by sustained investor confidence and a robust external position. Amid a subdued global investment climate, gross FDI inflows remained strong at US$ 94.53 Billion during FY 2025-26, contributing to the strengthening of external buffers.

This was reflected in foreign exchange reserves rising to US$ 698.49 Billion in April 2026, thereby enhancing resilience to external shocks. Alongside this, export performance remained steady, with cumulative (merchandise and services) exports estimated at US$ 860.09 Billion during April–March FY 2025-26, underscoring the economy's ability to sustain trade momentum despite global uncertainties.

Together, these factors strengthened the economy's ability to navigate geopolitical challenges while maintaining stability.

Outlook

Looking ahead, India's growth momentum is expected to remain strong, with real GDP projected to grow at 6.80-7.20% in FY 2026-27, supported by resilient domestic demand, alongside sustained public capital expenditure and continued momentum in manufacturing and services. Strengthening infrastructure, improving investment activity and ongoing policy support are expected to further reinforce economic expansion.

Building on these near-term drivers, the Viksit Bharat initiative outlines India's long-term vision of becoming a developed economy by CY 2047, targeting a GDP of US$ 30-40 Trillion and per capita income of US$ 15,000-18,000, reflecting a strong structural growth trajectory. However, global trade uncertainties, geopolitical risks, and external volatility remain key headwinds, highlighting the need for continued reforms and macroeconomic stability to sustain growth momentum.

GROWTH DRIVERS OF THE INDIAN ECONOMY

Infrastructure — Roads, Railways, Airports — as an Economic Multiplier

Infrastructure remains central to India's growth strategy, supported by sustained public capital expenditure, with the Centre's capex rising by 92% between FY19 and FY22, increasing from ₹3.07 lakh crore to ₹5.92 lakh crore. This momentum has been sustained, with capital outlay budgeted to rise by nearly 89% to ₹11.21 lakh crore in FY26.

The Economic Survey highlights a strong multiplier effect, with every rupee of government spending generating GDP gains of ₹ 2.50-3.50 over the medium term. This scale of investment drives multiple rounds of economic activity by supporting demand, generating employment, improving competitiveness, and reinforcing growth momentum.

Manufacturing Renaissance

India's manufacturing growth is being driven by sustained policy support and global supply chain realignment. The Make in India initiative, expanded to 27 sectors, has strengthened investment, infrastructure and innovation, enhancing domestic manufacturing capabilities.

Building on this foundation, PLI schemes and reforms such as PM GatiShakti, the National Logistics Policy and GST have improved cost competitiveness and supply chain efficiency, translating into investments exceeding ₹2.16 Lakhs Crore, incremental production of over ₹ 20.41 Lakhs Crore and employment generation of 14.39 Lakhs+ as of 31 December, 2025.

These structural gains are enabling India to benefit from the global China+1 strategy, particularly in sectors such as automobiles, supported by targeted incentives including the US$ 3 Billion PLI scheme for advanced and EV components, positioning India as a key manufacturing hub in global value chains.

Strengthening FDI Flows

Despite a subdued global investment environment, India's net FDI inflows remain strong, at US$ 7.7 Billion during FY 2025–26 nearly 700% higher than in FY 2024-25. This momentum is supported by policy reforms, improved ease of doing business, and expanding free trade agreements, which have enhanced India's global investment appeal. FDI continues to drive capital formation, technology transfer, and employment, reinforcing its role as a key engine of economic growth.

Rising Consumption and Strengthening Employment

India's economic growth in FY 2025-26 was supported by robust domestic consumption and improving labour market conditions. Private Final Consumption Expenditure (PFCE) rose 7% during the year, accounting for 61.5% of GDP—the highest level since 2012—driven by rising incomes, stable employment and strengthening rural and urban demand. The country's expanding middle-class population, estimated at over 31% of the total population, further reinforced consumption-led growth.

Labour market conditions also strengthened considerably, with average employment reaching 57.40 crore persons in Q4 FY 2025–26, compared with 56.20 crore persons in Q2 FY 2025–26. Growth was supported by increased formalisation, particularly across manufacturing and organised sectors, resulting in job creation and income stability. The implementation of labour reforms gained momentum, with the consolidation of 29 labour laws into four Labour Codes aimed at simplifying compliance requirements, enhancing labour flexibility, standardising wage regulations and expanding social security coverage. Additionally, labour market participation benefited from greater digital integration, with over 31 crore workers registered on the e-Shram portal, strengthening workforce formalisation and supporting broader economic productivity.

LOGISTICS INDUSTRY IN INDIA

Current Industry Landscape in India

India's freight and logistics industry is transitioning toward a more integrated, technology-enabled ecosystem, driven by e-commerce expansion, PLI-led manufacturing, and rising exports, with the market size estimated at US$ 476.51 Billion in CY 2031. Rising freight demand is accelerating infrastructure investment and network efficiency improvements across road and rail. In response, initiatives such as PM Gati Shakti are strengthening multimodal connectivity and reducing transit times by 12–15%, while dedicated freight corridors and axle-load liberalisation are improving long-haul cost economics. Concurrently, omnichannel and D2C models are driving micro-fulfilment networks, flexible warehousing, and integrated reverse logistics, accelerating adoption of real-time tracking, IoT, and data-driven routing to enhance visibility and asset utilisation. As a result, the industry is becoming increasingly differentiated by technology and service capabilities, with digital platforms improving capacity access and traditional 3PL players strengthening service differentiation through investments in automation, robotics, cold-chain, and predictive analytics.

Complexities and Challenges in the Indian Logistics Industry

Geopolitical disruptions:

Middle East tensions have increased logistics costs due to rerouting, higher insurance, and delays of 10–15 days, exposing dependence on critical routes such as the Strait of Hormuz, thereby raising freight costs, disrupting supply chains, and increasing overall logistics expenses for India.

Skewed modal mix:

Freight movement remains road-dominated (66%) versus rail (22%), with road transport being more expensive, leading to higher fuel consumption, congestion, and overall logistics costs.

High rail freight tariffs:

Cross-subsidisation keeps rail tariffs elevated, discouraging modal shift and increasing overall supply chain costs and inflationary pressures.

Infrastructure constraints:

Poor last-mile connectivity between industrial hubs, rural centres, and ports, along with weak multimodal integration, limits efficiency.

Rail network limitations:

Freight rail shares tracks with passenger trains, constraining speed, capacity, and reliability.

Rising fuel costs:

Increasing fuel prices, particularly Aviation Turbine Fuel which accounts for 40% of the airline operating expenses are driving higher transportation costs, often the burden is passed on to consumers.

Rising labor and workforce costs:

Acute shortages of skilled personnel, coupled with increasing driver and crew compensation, are driving up operational expenses.

EXPRESS LOGISTICS IN INDIA

Express logistics as the highest-growth segment within Indian logistics

India's express logistics industry has evolved into a high-growth, time-sensitive segment within the broader logistics ecosystem, as changing consumption patterns and rapid e-commerce expansion increase the need for faster and more reliable deliveries. The industry has scaled from US$ 3 Billion in FY 2016–17 to US$ 9 Billion in FY 2024–25, reflecting a CAGR of 12-15%, with growth being driven by increasing demand across Surface Express and Domestic & International Air Express services for time-definite shipments, supported by the expanding role of Rail Express for cost-efficient bulk movement, along with rising volumes in E-commerce Express driven by last-mile delivery requirements. This demand shift towards time-sensitive fulfilment is reducing the relative importance of cost optimisation and, in turn, increasing the premium on speed, reliability, and network efficiency, thereby positioning express logistics as the fastest-growing segment within India's logistics sector.

Role in enabling just-in-time manufacturing and pharmaceutical distribution

Manufacturing Industry

The core Manufacturing Market is scaling to US$ 2.47 Trillion by CY 2031 from US$ 1.63 Trillion in CY 2025 at a 7.26% CAGR. Advanced manufacturing techniques and a reduction in working capital cycles from 90 days to below 45 days have heavily accelerated production timelines. Rising FDI under the "China + 1" strategy alongside extensive PLI 2.0 investments are propelling high-growth segments like electronics, batteries, and green hydrogen. Geographically, while West India remains the dominant hub, South India is witnessing surging demand driven by expanding aerospace, EV, and semiconductor clusters. This high-velocity environment directly fuels the express delivery industry by demanding time-critical logistics to prevent production bottlenecks.

Pharmaceutical Industry

The pharmaceutical market is projected to reach US$ 79.74 Billion by CY 2031 (up from US$ 57.61 Billion in CY 2025) at a 5.74% CAGR. The sector's extreme reliance on speed is evident as B2B industries drive over 70% of international express volumes, while pharma alone constitutes ~5–10% of domestic B2B shipments. This critical dependence serves as a primary growth anchor for the specialised express delivery and cold-chain industry.

Strategic Growth Sectors

Rapid milestones across IT Hardware (scaling to US$ 31.39 Billion by CY 2031 via over ₹1.61 Lakhs Crore in PLI 2.0 investments) and Consumer Durables (~11% CAGR up to FY 2026–27) have drastically increased high-frequency component movements. Concurrently, Engineering Goods exports exceeded US$ 100 Billion (April–January FY 2025–26) and the Solar/EV sector hit a milestone with 50% non-fossil installed capacity. Together, these fast-moving sectors drive massive volume and continuous demand for technology-enabled, just-in-time express delivery solutions.

GST and formalisation as structural tailwinds for organised express players

The Indian express logistics industry has undergone a structural transformation over recent years, supported by policy-led reforms such as GST, the e-way bill, and the Express Cargo Clearance System (ECCS). GST has been a key enabler, reshaping India's indirect tax landscape by driving formalisation and digitalisation, while also facilitating the creation of a unified national market and improving ease of doing business. The increasing adoption of e-invoicing and data-driven compliance mechanisms has further strengthened transparency and accountability across supply chains. Collectively, these developments are accelerating the shift toward organised, technology-enabled players, as stringent compliance limits unorganised operations, reinforcing their structural advantage in a market focused on speed, reliability, and visibility.

GST at Eight from Reform to Refinement

Surface express as the dominant and the most scalable mode

Surface express has emerged as the backbone of India's express logistics sector, accounting for 82% of the domestic market, compared to 17% for air and ~1% for rail. At an overall level, road-based movement contributes ~55–60% of total express volumes by value, with its share increasing by ~5% over the past five years. This dominance is supported by improved road infrastructure and connectivity, which have enhanced network reach and operational efficiency. As a result, surface express, with its extensive coverage and ability to handle large volumes, stands out as the most scalable and indispensable mode in India's logistics network.

Rail express bridging the speed-cost gap using India's freight corridor network

Rail express, as an emerging time-bound logistics mode, is gaining importance within India's logistics ecosystem, supported by government-led initiatives such as dedicated freight corridors (DFCs), improvements in rolling stock, and station development, which are enhancing capacity, transit speed, and efficiency. Additionally, services like the Rail Post Gati Shakti Express Cargo Service offer time-tabled runs, end-to-end logistics, and improved reliability, making rail increasingly suitable for faster deliveries. With growing cost competitiveness for specific routes, rail express is well positioned to balance speed and cost, bridging the gap between faster but expensive air transport and slower but economical road transport.

Outlook: Express Logistics Industry

India's express logistics industry is evolving into a core B2B supply chain enabler, driven by increasing demand for just-in-time manufacturing, faster inter-firm distribution, and inventory optimisation. With a significant share of volumes linked to industries such as pharmaceuticals, automotive and textiles, shipment intensity is expected to rise, positioning the express logistics industry to reach ~US$ 22 Billion by FY 2029–30. Growth is supported by expanding multimodal infrastructure, improving transit efficiency and cost–speed optimisation, while asset-light models and digital technologies are enhancing scalability, visibility, and service reliability. Policy-led reforms such as GST and PM Gati Shakti are further accelerating formalisation and network integration, strengthening the role of organised players. In balance, the sector is well-positioned for sustained, efficiency-led growth, anchored in B2B demand dynamics.

CHALLENGES FACED BY THE INDIAN LOGISTICS INDUSTRY

Rising costs due to geopolitical conflicts disrupting global trade routes

Geopolitical tensions in West Asia, particularly involving Iran, have sharply increased logistics costs for Indian exporters, with container shipping rates rising by upto 40%. Higher fuel costs, elevated insurance premiums and route diversions around key corridors such as the Strait of Hormuz have resulted in longer transit times and increased operating expenses, with rising logistics expenses exerting pressure on export competitiveness, especially in price-sensitive sectors.

Diesel at Rs 192 per litre? Here's what the Petroleum Ministry has said amid the Iran war oil crisis - The Economic Times

Fuel price volatility creating planning uncertainty and unpredictable cost structures

Fuel price volatility continues to create planning uncertainty and unpredictable cost structures in India's logistics sector. Rising global crude prices have driven bulk diesel costs higher by ~₹ 22 per litre, increasing transportation expenses, while retail prices remain relatively stable due to government intervention. This divergence between bulk and retail pricing complicates cost forecasting and pricing strategies. As fuel constitutes a significant share of operating costs, such volatility results in margin pressure, limited pricing visibility, and a greater need for cost optimisation.

Complex multi-layered regulatory environment across taxation and transport

The Indian logistics sector operates within a complex, multi-layered regulatory framework spanning central taxation (GST), state-level procedures and transport-related compliance requirements. While mechanisms such as the e-way bill system have improved transparency, they remain enforcement-driven, involving mandatory documentation and frequent checks. This leads to operational delays, administrative burden, and uncertainty in transit timelines. Consequently, logistics providers face higher compliance costs and reduced supply chain efficiency.

Cybersecurity risks growing in tandem with digital adoption in the sector

Rapid digitalisation is increasing cybersecurity risks in India's logistics sector, with cyber incidents rising 61% in CY 2025 and expected to double in CY 2026, up nearly 1,000% since CY 2021. As logistics networks become increasingly interconnected through digital platforms and shared systems, vulnerabilities have intensified. Consequently, a single breach can disrupt multiple stakeholders across the supply chain, leading to operational disruptions, data loss, financial impact, and reputational damage, making cybersecurity a critical challenge for the sector.

Logistics workforce skill gap and high workforce attrition

The Indian logistics industry faces a shortage of skilled talent despite strong employment growth. The sector is expected to require around 47 Lakhs additional workers by CY 2030, highlighting a significant skill gap and need for workforce development. Even as hiring grew by approximately 10.80% in CY 2025, the availability of trained professionals remains limited, indicating a demand-supply mismatch. This challenge is further exacerbated by high attrition in operational roles, driven by demanding work conditions, impacting efficiency and scalability.

Infrastructure Bottlenecks & Urban Congestion

The Indian logistics industry faces challenges from infrastructure bottlenecks and rising urban congestion, impacting efficiency and delivery timelines. Inefficiencies in internal logistics and network coordination are leading to significant losses, with the organised retail sector incurring over ₹ 2,000 Crore annually despite strong last-mile delivery performance. As highlighted in the Economic Survey FY 2025-26, urban infrastructure has lagged behind the economic importance of cities, resulting in congestion and infrastructure stress. These factors contribute to delays, higher operating costs, and reduced supply chain reliability.

Internal logistics gaps cost India's organised retail sector over Rs 2,000 crore a year: Report - The Economic Times

Higher Reliance on Road Network

The Indian logistics sector remains heavily reliant on road transport, which accounts for approximately 66% of total freight movement, significantly higher than other modes such as rail and waterways. While road transport offers extensive network coverage and operational flexibility, this overdependence results in higher logistics costs, with road freight costing around ₹ 3.78 per tonne-km compared to ₹ 1.96 for rail. The modal imbalance also exposes the sector to congestion, fuel price volatility, and infrastructure constraints. Despite ongoing policy efforts to promote multimodal logistics, limited diversification continues to impact efficiency and cost competitiveness of supply chains.

New Labour Code in India

India's four Labour Codes — Code on Wages, Industrial Relations Code, Code on Social Security, and Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions Code — came into effect from 21st November 2025, consolidating 29 erstwhile labour laws. The revised wage framework may influence employee benefit costs while strengthening employee welfare and simplifying labour compliance.

Rising Operating Costs

Rising costs in Indian logistics stem from multiple drivers beyond fuel. Driver wages have climbed steadily amid a persistent shortage of skilled manpower, while commercial vehicle insurance premiums remain high. Vehicle ownership costs — EMIs and depreciation add further pressure, alongside rising warehouse rentals in key metros driven by real estate demand. Moreover, higher toll charges elevating transportation and logistics costs.

Growing Compliance Complexity

Indian logistics operators navigate a fragmented, multi-layered compliance landscape spanning central GST, state-level permits, and transport regulations that vary across state borders. Enforcement has grown more stringent — GSTN now cross-verifies e-way bills against FASTag toll records and e-invoice data in real time, auto-flagging mismatches for scrutiny.

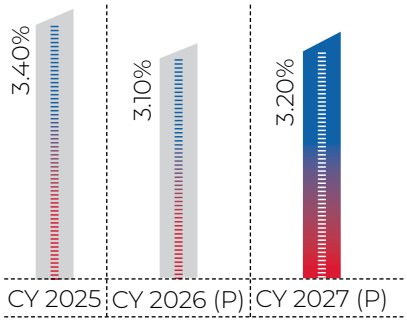

GLOBAL ECONOMIC OUTLOOK

Global Economic Overview

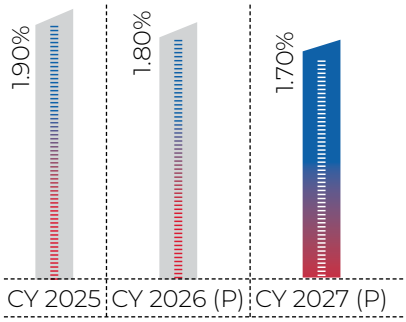

The global economy remained resilient in CY 2025, registering growth of 3.40%, underpinned by sustained technology investments, policy support, and strong private sector adaptability. However, escalating geopolitical tensions disrupted hydrocarbon supply chains, leading to elevated energy prices and exerting pressure on growth across major economies.

In response, global trade flows have begun to realign, with companies diversifying sourcing strategies, expanding into new markets, and reducing dependence on specific regions. Despite these challenges, the underlying economic momentum built prior to these disruptions has acted as a stabilizing force, enabling the global economy to absorb the impact.

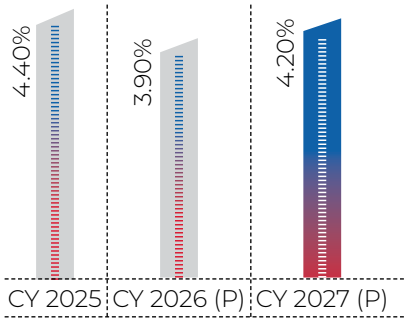

Global Economy

Advanced Economies

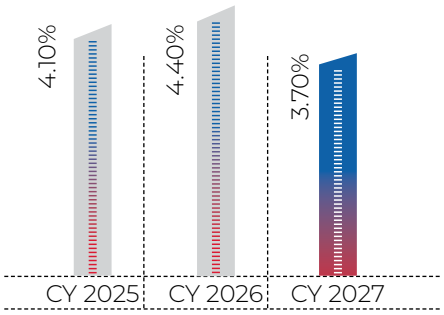

Emerging Market and Developing Economies

Global Inflation and Monetary Policy

Global headline inflation remained broadly stable at 4.10% in CY 2025 and is expected to edge up to 4.40% in CY 2026, reflecting temporary supply disruptions following the Strait of Hormuz closure, which lifted energy and, in turn, food prices. As supply conditions improve, inflation is projected to moderate to around 3.70% by CY 2027, indicating a gradual easing of cost pressures.

Central banks continue to adopt a calibrated, data-driven approach, balancing inflation management with growth support while maintaining policy consistency and anchoring public confidence.

Geopolitical conflicts in Middle East impacting shipping routes and freight costs

The escalation of geopolitical tensions in the Middle East, particularly disruptions in the Strait of Hormuz and Red Sea routes, significantly impacted global supply chains, with traffic through key shipping lanes declining by over 90%. This led to congestion, delays, and route diversions, driving a sharp increase in freight and insurance costs. Concurrently, Brent crude prices surged from around US$ 60 per barrel to over US$ 100–120, while Asian LNG prices rose by 143%, further inflating transportation and operating costs across industries and increasing overall supply chain volatility.

Outlook

The global economy remains stable, although geopolitical tensions and supply chain disruptions continue to create uncertainty. Growth is expected to moderate to 3.10% in CY 2026, mainly due to higher energy prices driven by ongoing conflicts. As these pressures gradually ease, growth is projected to edge up to 3.20% in CY 2027, reflecting a more stable environment.

Even with these challenges, government support and improvements in productivity, including from AI, are expected to support growth. However, if conflicts persist for longer, it could keep energy prices elevated, increase inflation, and tighten financial conditions, which may affect global growth.

Fuel Price Volatility Risk	Volatility in global fuel prices and supply uncertainties pose a risk to profitability by impacting transportation costs and operational stability.	This risk is mitigated through a dynamic fuel surcharge mechanism, periodic freight rate revisions, and contractual arrangements that enable partial pass-through of cost fluctuations, supporting margin stability and ensuring a more predictable pricing framework for both the Company and its customers
People Risk	The logistics industry relies heavily on a skilled and dedicated workforce, and staffing shortages or attrition of key employees may disrupt operations and impact performance.	These risks are mitigated through employee retention initiatives such as comprehensive health insurance, recognition programmes, and a competitive compensation and incentive structure, supported by a safe and healthy working environment that drives engagement and sustains operational efficiency.

Annexure- V of Board's Report

CONSERVATION OF ENERGY AND TECHNOLOGY ABSORPTION

[Pursuant to Section 134 of the Companies Act, 2013 and the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014]

A. Conservation of Energy

Renewable Energy

As part of our ongoing sustainability journey, the Company continues to expand the integration of solar energy solutions across key operational locations. By increasing the adoption of solar power, we are optimizing energy consumption, strengthening operational resilience, and reducing reliance on conventional grid electricity. During the year, solar panel infrastructure was commissioned at the Midchel sorting centre with 110 KW capacity, further advancing renewable energy utilization and supporting sustainable operations. These initiatives are aligned with our long-term environmental commitments and focus on reducing carbon emissions.

The Company's solar-enabled sorting centres collectively generated 10,07,796 kWh of electricity from renewable sources during the reporting period, accounting for approximately 20% of the total energy consumption, compared to 18% in the previous period. The surplus renewable energy generated was supplied to the government electricity grid, thereby contributing to clean energy distribution and supporting environmental sustainability initiatives.

Sustainability in Infrastructure and Facility Development

The Company remains committed to strengthening its green logistics infrastructure through environmentally responsible, resource-efficient and sustainable operational practices. As part of its sustainable infrastructure development strategy, the Company promotes the use of environmentally preferred construction materials, including environmental product declaration ('EPD') certified materials and industrial by-products. During the financial year under review, the Company utilized 654 MT of EPD-certified materials and 43,658.1 MT of fly ash across various infrastructure projects, thereby contributing to resource conservation, reduction in embodied carbon and promotion of circular economy principles.

The Company's Gurugram 'GIGA' sorting centre and Chakan sorting centre have been awarded LEED Gold Certification in recognition of their sustainable design and operational excellence. Further, the Company's corporate office project under development has also received provisional green building certification, reflecting its continued focus on sustainable infrastructure development.

These certified facilities incorporate several energy-efficient and environmentally sustainable features, including rooftop solar power systems, LED lighting, transparent roofing sheets for enhanced daylight utilization, rainwater harvesting systems and sewage treatment plants ('STPs'). The transparent roofing infrastructure alone facilitates savings of approximately 164 kWh of electricity per day through optimum use of natural lighting. During the year under review, the Company recycled 2,415 KL of water through its treatment and reuse systems, further supporting efficient water management and conservation efforts. Through these initiatives, the Company continues to reduce its environmental footprint while enhancing operational efficiency and long-term sustainability.

Green Transportation

The Company continues to promote green transportation practices as part of its commitment towards sustainable logistics operations. The Company encourages the use of electric vehicles and CNG-based transportation to reduce fuel consumption and greenhouse gas emissions. Advanced route optimization systems are utilized to enhance fuel efficiency and minimize unnecessary transit movement. During the reporting period, the Company operated a fleet comprising 214 CNG vehicles and 58 electric vehicles. To promote use of electric vehicle, the Company has also installed EV charging station at its sorting centres. In addition, the Company promotes rail and multimodal transportation solutions to support low carbon logistics operations. As part of green logistics initiatives, the Company has taken one dedicated railway bogie on lease for cargo transportation. The use of rail transport supports fuel-efficient freight movement, reduces road congestion, and contributes to lower greenhouse gas emissions compared to conventional road transportation.

To further support decarbonization efforts, the Company utilizes battery powered forklifts in material handling operations, helping reduce fossil fuel consumption and promote cleaner warehouse operations.

B. Technology Absorption, Adoption and Innovation

The Company has consistently positioned itself at the forefront of technological advancement, harnessing cutting-edge innovations to drive comprehensive automation, digital transformation, operational excellence, and robust cybersecurity. During the year, the Company undertook significant initiatives in technology absorption and innovation, the details of which are outlined below.

Digital Platforms and Customer Engagement

During the year, the Company further enhanced its customer relationship management capabilities through the implementation of Zoho CRM platform, enabling effective management of customer interactions, streamlined sales processes, improved lead management and enhanced responsiveness to customer requirements. A dedicated customer support and issue resolution centre has also been established to facilitate timely resolution of customer and operational queries, thereby improving service quality and customer satisfaction.

Customer engagement has been further strengthened through integrated digital communication channels, including SMS, e-mail and WhatsApp, enabling customers to conveniently place pickup requests, share feedback and receive real-time service updates. In addition, the Company's web-based customer portal provides comprehensive dashboards offering real-time visibility of consignments, including booking, in-transit, delivered and undelivered shipments, along with zone-wise business analytics and performance insights.

Digital Integration and Connectivity

The Company has implemented robust application programming interface ('API')-based integrations to enable secure and seamless connectivity with customers and business partners. These integrations facilitate real-time exchange of information, improve interoperability between systems and enhance transaction processing efficiency, thereby contributing to improved operational agility and customer convenience.

Operational Excellence through Technology

As part of its ongoing efforts to enhance operational efficiency, the Company has introduced various technology-driven initiatives across its logistics network. A region-wise colour-coded shipment identification system has been implemented to simplify sorting processes, improve handling efficiency and reduce manual errors. Further, GPS-enabled tracking systems and a centralized monitoring dashboard have been deployed to strengthen shipment visibility, fleet monitoring and operational control.

The Company continues to leverage automation and smart logistics solutions, including fully automated sorting centres at Gurugram and Pune, which have significantly enhanced parcel handling capabilities and operational efficiency. The integration of advanced technologies such as artificial intelligence ('AI'), machine learning ('ML'), internet of things ('IoT') and GPS-enabled tracking systems has further supported process optimisation, resource utilisation and improved customer visibility across the logistics value chain.

Cybersecurity and Information Security

The Company remains committed to maintaining a secure and resilient technology environment. Comprehensive cybersecurity measures have been implemented to safeguard critical digital assets, business applications and information systems. A web application firewall ('WAF') has been deployed across public-facing applications to strengthen protection against cyber threats and vulnerabilities.

Further, a security information and event management ('SIEM') platform enables continuous monitoring, advanced threat detection and proactive incident response across the Company's IT infrastructure. Secure access to systems is facilitated through virtual private network ('VPN') connectivity, ensuring controlled and encrypted communication for authorised users.

To enhance business resilience and continuity, the Company has also established robust disaster recovery ('DR') mechanisms and contingency frameworks designed to minimise operational disruptions and ensure continuity of critical business functions in the event of unforeseen incidents.

Technology Upgradation

The Company continues to invest in the modernisation and upgradation of its technology infrastructure to support scalability, innovation and future growth. During the year, enhancements were undertaken to incorporate advanced AI and ML capabilities, enabling improved analytics, faster processing, enhanced system performance and superior customer experience. These initiatives reinforce the Company's commitment to leveraging technology as a key enabler of operational excellence and long-term value creation.

Investor Service Request, Transfer, Dematerialisation and Reconciliation of Shares

In order to enhance investor convenience and streamline the submission and processing of shareholder service requests, the SEBI has introduced standardised procedures and mechanisms for listed Companies and their Registrar and Share Transfer Agent. As part of this measure, the SEBI has prescribed standardized Investor Service Request ('ISR') Forms to facilitate uniform and efficient handling of various shareholder requests, including updation of KYC details, nomination, change of address or bank particulars, transmission of securities, and other related investor service matters.

These forms, together with the procedure for submission of applications in accordance with the aforesaid framework and the applicable operational guidelines, are available on the website of the Registrar and Share Transfer Agent, KFin Technologies Limited, at https://ris.kfintech.com/clientservices/isc/isrforms.aspx, and on the Company's website at https://www.tciexpress.in/investor-faq under the 'KYC Updation and Forms' section.

In terms of Regulation 40(1) of the Listing Regulations, requests for transfer of securities held in physical form have been discontinued. Accordingly, shares held in physical form cannot be transferred unless they are first converted into dematerialised form. Further, in accordance with the circulars issued by the SEBI, listed entities are required to issue securities only in dematerialised form while processing certain investor service requests. These include requests relating to issue of duplicate share certificates, claim from unclaimed suspense account, renewal or exchange of securities certificates, endorsement, sub-division or splitting of securities certificates, consolidation of securities certificates or folios, as well as transmission and transposition of securities. Accordingly, such requests are processed and the resulting securities are issued only in dematerialised form after completion of the prescribed procedures.

The Shareholders holding shares in physical form are encouraged to dematerialise their holdings at the earliest to facilitate seamless transfer of securities and to align with the applicable regulatory framework. Holding securities in dematerialised form enables faster processing of transactions, mitigates risks associated with physical share certificates and enhances convenience and liquidity in trading.

The equity shares of the Company are in compulsory dematerialized segment and are frequently traded on the National Stock Exchange of India Limited ('NSE') and BSE Limited ('BSE'). The equity shares are available for trading in the depository systems of both the National Securities Depository Limited ('NSDL') and the Central Depository Services (India) Limited ('CDSL'). The equity shares of the Company have not been suspended from trading on the mentioned Stock Exchanges by any regulatory or statutory authority. The annual listing fees for the Financial Year 2025–26 have been duly paid to both the Stock Exchanges and the Depositories

Further, pursuant to the applicable regulatory requirements, a Company Secretary in Practice conducts a Reconciliation of Share Capital Audit of the Company on a quarterly basis. The audit confirms that the total issued and paid-up share capital of the Company is in agreement with the aggregate number of shares held in dematerialised form with NSDL and CDSL and the shares held in physical form, if any. The Reconciliation of Share Capital Audit Report is submitted to the Stock Exchanges, namely NSE and BSE, within the timelines prescribed under the applicable regulations.

As on March 31, 2026, 99.30 % of Company's paid-up capital is held in the dematerialized form. The status of shares held in demat and physical format is given below.

26. Overview of the entity's material responsible business conduct issues:

Please indicate material responsible business conduct and sustainability issues pertaining to environmental and social matters that present a risk or an opportunity to your business, rationale for identifying the same, approach to adapt or mitigate the risk along-with its financial implications, as per the following format:

Business Responsibility & Sustainability Report (contd.)

1	Material issues identified	Energy
	Indicate whether risk or opportunity and its financial implications	Risk Negative
	Rationale for identifying the risk/ opportunity	Energy consumption is a critical operational requirement in the logistics sector, driven by transportation activities, sorting centres, branches, office operations and the need to provide uninterrupted services. The Company's dependence on fuel for transportation exposes it to fluctuations in fuel prices driven by global market dynamics, which can increase operating costs and impact profit margins. Companies that do not adopt fuel-efficient fleet management practices or alternative fuels may be more vulnerable to such cost volatility. The Company also relies on electricity to support its operational infrastructure. Rising electricity tariffs can increase operating expenses, while dependence on grid electricity may expose operations to power outages, potentially affecting business continuity. Reliance on conventional grid power can result in higher indirect GHG emissions. Failure to optimize energy consumption and enhance the use of cleaner energy sources may impact operational efficiency sustainability performance and long-term cost competitiveness.
	In case of Risk, approach to adapt or mitigate	The Company has undertaken several initiatives to reduce dependence on fossil fuels and enhance the Company's energy efficiency. Key initiatives are as follows: Energy Savings through Renewable Energy: The Company is increasing the use of renewable energy through rooftop solar installations across its sorting centers. During the year, the Medchal sorting centre was additionally equipped with a 110-kWp rooftop solar system, alongside existing installations of 600 kWp at Tajnagar and 280 kWp at Pune. Collectively, these installations generated approximately 10,07,796 kWh of renewable electricity during the financial year, contributing towards reduction in grid electricity consumption and greenhouse gas emissions. Energy efficient infrastructure: The Company promotes energy-efficient infrastructure through its LEED-certified green buildings at Taj Nagar and Chakan, Pune. These facilities incorporate energy efficient design features, smart technologies and resource-efficient materials that help reduce energy consumption and minimize environmental impact. In addition, the Company has applied thermal reflective roof coatings at select facilities to reduce heat absorption and cooling requirements, thereby improving energy efficiency and lowering electricity consumption. Use of Energy efficient technology: The Company has adopted energy efficient technologies such as LED lighting, energy-efficient HVAC systems, star rated electrical equipment, digital route optimization tools, energy monitoring system to improve energy performance to reduce the demand of energy. Investment in Clean Transportation: The Company is progressively integrating electric vehicles ('EV') and alternative fuel-operated vehicles into its first mile and last-mile delivery operations. To support the adoption of electric mobility, EV charging infrastructure has been established at selected locations. The Company is also increasing the use of rail transportation as a more energy-efficient mode of freight movement and leased a railway coach during the financial year. During FY 2025-26, the Company transported 8,936.6 MT of shipments through rail, resulting in an estimated avoidance of 1,439 tCO_2e of GHG emissions compared to transportation by diesel operated road vehicles. These initiatives contribute to improved energy efficiency, reduced dependence on fossil fuels.

Business Responsibility & Sustainability Report (contd.)

2	Material issues identified	Emission/ carbon footprint
	Indicate whether risk or opportunity and its financial implications	Risk Negative
	Rationale for identifying the risk/ opportunity	Transportation is a critical component of TCI Express operations, relying primarily on fuel powered vehicles to move shipments across its extensive logistics network. The Company consumes significant quantities of fuel in day-to-day transportation activities, making fuel availability, efficiency and cost key operational considerations. Fluctuations in fuel prices can increase transportation expenses, create financial uncertainty, and affect overall profitability. Moreover, the combustion of conventional fuels contributes to GHG emissions and air pollutants, leading to environmental impacts. As an express logistics service provider, TCI Express recognizes that transportation related emissions represent a substantial share of its environmental footprint, particularly from diesel- and petrol-powered vehicles used across the supply chain. Inadequate management of fleet emissions may expose the Company to evolving environmental regulations, higher compliance costs and reputational risks among customers and stakeholders who increasingly prioritize sustainable business practices.
	In case of Risk, approach to adapt or mitigate	Reducing GHG Emissions through Clean Energy: The Company's solar installations generated 10,07,796 kWh of clean energy during FY 25-26, reducing reliance on conventional electricity sources and preventing approximately 725 tCO_2e of emissions. Decarbonization of road transportation: The Company is expanding the deployment of CNG powered, alternative fuel-operated and BS VI compliant vehicles across its logistics network. During FY 2025-26, 214 CNG-powered vehicles were deployed in first-mile and last-mile operations, supporting lower-emission freight movement. Decarbonization by using Rail Freight: The Company promotes the use of rail transport as a lower-emission alternative to road transportation for long-distance freight movement. By increasing the share of rail-based logistics, the Company enhances transportation efficiency, reduces fuel consumption and supports its decarbonization and sustainable logistics objectives. During FY 2025-26, the transportation of 8,936.6 MT of shipments by rail helped avoid an estimated 1,439 tCO_2e of GHG emissions compared to diesel-based road transport. Transition to Electric Mobility: The Company is gradually adopting electric vehicles for first and last mile deliveries, reducing emissions, air and noise pollution, and supporting sustainable transport. Use of recycle/EPD certified material: The Company uses recycled materials, EPD-certified products, and fly ash for backfilling to support sustainable construction, conserve resources, and reduce GHG emissions. Carbon Sequestration through Plantation: Under its CSR initiatives, the Company planted over 15,000 saplings across multiple locations during FY 2024 25. During FY 2025-26, the Company continued the maintenance and nurturing of these plantations to support their healthy growth and survival. As the trees mature, they are expected to contribute to carbon sequestration and enhance local green cover. Freight Consolidation: The Company optimizes vehicle utilization through load planning, shipment consolidation and backhaul optimization, while regular vehicle maintenance helps improve fuel efficiency and reduce GHG emissions. Driver Training Programs: The Company conducts driver training on eco-driving and defensive driving and runs awareness initiatives like 'Safe Safar' to promote fuel efficiency and road safety.

4.	Material issues identified	Cyber security
	Indicate whether risk or opportunity and its financial implications	Risk Negative
	Rationale for identifying the risk/ opportunity	As a technology-enabled logistics company, the Company's operations are increasingly dependent on digital platforms, network infrastructure and information systems for shipment booking, consignment tracking, customer interfaces, operational planning, financial transactions and business communications. Consequently, cyber security threats, including unauthorized access, malware attacks, ransomware incidents, data breaches, phishing attempts and disruption of critical systems, pose a potential risk to business continuity, operational efficiency and stakeholder trust. Any significant cyber security incident may result in interruption of logistics operations, compromise of customer and business data, financial loss, regulatory non-compliance and reputational impact.
	In case of Risk, approach to adapt or mitigate	The Company has established Cyber Security Policy to safeguard its information assets, systems and networks from evolving cyber threats. The policy focuses on risk assessment, incident management, data protection and continuous monitoring to ensure the confidentiality, integrity and availability of information. Preventive measures are in place to strengthen cyber resilience, with data privacy embedded across digital platforms and business processes. Procedures are also established to identify, report, and mitigate cybersecurity incidents and data breaches, ensuring business continuity and compliance. 5.	Material issues identified	Customer management
	Rationale for identifying the risk/ opportunity	Customer management is a key business risk for a logistics company, as the timely, safe and efficient movement of consignments directly impacts customer satisfaction and business continuity. Delays in deliveries, shipment losses or damages, service disruptions, inaccurate tracking information, failure to meet service level commitments, data privacy concerns, and ineffective grievance redressal mechanisms may adversely affect customer trust, reputation and retention. In addition, increasing customer expectations for real-time visibility, service reliability and digital engagement require continuous enhancement of operational and technology capabilities.
	In case of Risk, approach to adapt or mitigate	Customer management is essential for maintaining customer satisfaction, trust and long-term business relationships. Failure to meet customer expectations may result in customer dissatisfaction, loss of business opportunities and reputational impacts. To address these risks, the Company has implemented robust operational controls, technology-enabled solutions, customer engagement mechanisms, grievance redressal processes and regular feedback assessments. Key initiatives undertaken by the Company are outlined below: • Deployment of technology-enabled shipment tracking and real-time visibility systems to enhance service reliability, transparency and customer experience. • Standardized operating procedures and process controls across transportation, warehousing and delivery operations to ensure consistent service quality. • Continuous monitoring of service quality, transit performance and customer service levels to maintain operational efficiency and reliability. • Dedicated customer relationship management and grievance redressal mechanisms, including KAM support for timely resolution of customer concerns and operational issues. • Periodic customer feedback, satisfaction surveys and engagement initiatives to understand customer expectations and identify improvement opportunities. • Proactive engagement through meetings, digital platforms, customer portals and leadership interactions to strengthen long-term customer relationships. • Employee training and capability-building programs focused on customer service excellence and operational effectiveness. • Data security and information protection measures to safeguard customer information and business transactions. • Business continuity planning and contingency arrangements to minimize service disruptions and ensure uninterrupted service delivery • Continuous investment in digitalization, network optimization and process improvements to enhance operational effectiveness and customer satisfaction.

8. Does the entity have any project related to reducing GHG emission? If yes, then provide details

Yes, we are committed to attain carbon neutrality in operations by the year 2038. Accordingly, actions are being undertaken to reduce greenhouse gas emissions by investing in energy efficiency and increasing share of renewable energy. Some of these measures include:

Decarbonization Initiatives in Transportation Operations: The Company is focused on improving the environmental performance of its transportation network through adoption of cleaner technologies and efficient logistics practices. Continuous efforts are being made to upgrade the vehicle fleet by inducting modern, fuel-efficient vehicles and phasing out older vehicles with higher fuel consumption and emissions. Measures such as route rationalization, reduction of empty runs, and better vehicle load planning are also being implemented to improve operational efficiency. The Company has also incorporated alternative fuel and low-emission vehicles into its operations. The current fleet comprises 214 CNG-based vehicles and 58 electric vehicles, representing approximately 13.2% of the total first-mile and last-mile fleet. The deployment of electric vehicles for first-mile and last-mile deliveries supports the transition towards low-emission and sustainable transportation.

Additionally, efforts are being undertaken to increase the use of rail transportation as a more energy-efficient mode of freight movement. During the financial year, the Company leased a railway coach. During FY 2025-26, the Company transported 8,936.6 MT of shipments through rail transportation, resulting in an estimated avoidance of 1439 MT CO_2e of GHG emissions compared to transportation by diesel-operated road vehicles.

Rooftop Solar Installation at Sorting Centres: The Company continued to increase the share of renewable energy in its operations through rooftop solar installations at its facilities. During FY 2025-26, a 110-kWp solar power system was installed at the Medchal sorting centre, complementing the existing capacities at Tajnagar (600 kWp) and Pune (280 kWp). The combined solar installations generated 1,007,796 kWh of renewable electricity during the year, reducing dependence on conventional grid power and resulting in reduction of 725 tCO2e emissions.

Sustainable and Low-Carbon Construction Materials: The Company continues to encourage environmentally responsible construction practices by incorporating sustainable and recycled materials in its infrastructure development projects. During the financial year, approximately 654 MT of EPD-certified materials and 43,658.1 MT of fly ash-based materials were utilized across various projects, supporting resource efficiency, reduction in embodied carbon, and promotion of sustainable.

Use of Star Rated Electrical Equipment: The Company promotes energy efficiency by prioritizing the use of BEE star rated electrical equipment across operational facilities. The adoption of energy efficient appliances helps reduce electricity consumption, lower carbon emissions, and support the Company's sustainability objectives.

Afforestation: The Company undertakes tree plantation drives at various sorting centers as part of its environmental sustainability initiatives. During the year, the Company planted approximately 100 saplings across its sorting centers and maintained more than 15,000 plants at different locations through its CSR initiatives. These efforts contribute to carbon sequestration, enhance local biodiversity, improve air quality, and support the development of greener ecosystems.

The Company is committed to minimizing its environmental impact through the adoption of sustainable waste management practices and efficient resource utilization across its operations. The Company follows the 4R principles, Reduce, Reuse, Recycle, and Recover, with a strong focus on waste minimization at source.

To enable effective segregation and environmentally responsible waste handling, color-coded bins are provided at various locations across branches, offices and sorting centres in line with the Solid Waste Management Rules. Waste is systematically segregated into biodegradable (wet) and non-biodegradable (dry) streams. Recyclable waste, including paper and plastic waste, is collected and sent to designated collection centres for recycling through authorized recyclers. Municipal solid waste is managed at the point of generation through approved service providers. Hazardous waste, such as used oil, is stored and disposed of in accordance with the Hazardous and Other Wastes (Management and Transboundary Movement) Rules through SPCB-authorized recyclers. These practices help reduce dependence on landfills and promote environmentally sound waste management.

The Company has also clearly defined waste management responsibilities to ensure accountability and regulatory compliance. The administration and maintenance teams oversee the management of municipal solid waste, including paper, plastic, and other non-hazardous and hazardous waste streams. The IT team is responsible for the safe handling and disposal of e-waste and used batteries through authorized recyclers. All relevant functions maintain records of waste generation, segregation, collection, recycling, disposal, and submission of statutory returns, ensuring compliance with applicable regulations.

During FY 2025–26, the Company recycled 7.42 MT of paper waste, 1.70 MT of plastic waste, and 0.24 MT of e-waste through authorized recyclers. Additionally, 0.19 MT of used oil generated from DG sets was safely disposed off through approved recyclers in accordance with regulatory requirements.

The Company also encourages employees to conserve resources by reducing the use of single-use plastics and minimizing paper consumption through digitization, electronic documentation, and optimized printing practices. Employees are further encouraged to use reusable metal water bottles instead of single-use plastic bottles. Regular awareness programmes are conducted to promote responsible waste handling and sustainable resource-use practices across all facilities.

Our responsibilities under those SAs are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI") together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the Standalone Financial Statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. Our Opinion is not modified in respect of the above matter.

Other Information

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the preparation of the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Company's Annual Report but does not include the Standalone Financial Statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the Standalone Financial Statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the Standalone Financial Statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the Standalone Financial Statements, or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report the fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Management's Responsibilities for the Standalone Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act, with respect to the preparation of these Standalone Financial Statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, total comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Ind AS specified under section 133 of the Act. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the Standalone Financial Statement that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Independent Auditor's Report (contd.)

In preparing the Standalone Financial Statements, the Board of Directors is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors is also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Standalone Financial Statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an Auditor's Report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these Standalone Financial Statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

(a) Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the Standalone Financial Statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

(b) Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to Standalone Financial Statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.

(c) Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

(d) Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the Standalone Financial Statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

(e) Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the Standalone Financial Statements, including the disclosures, and whether the Standalone Financial Statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatement in the Standalone Financial Statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the Standalone Financial Statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of the work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the Standalone Financial Statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the Standalone Financial Statements of the financial year ended 31st March 2026 and are therefore the Key Audit Matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulations precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Other Matter

The Standalone Financial Statements for the year ended 31st March 2025 were audited by other auditor, who has issued unmodified opinion vide report dated 30th May 2025. This report has been furnished to us by the management, which has been relied upon by us for the purpose of audit of these Financial Statements.

These notes provide the list of the material accounting policies adopted in the preparation of these Standalone Financial Statements. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated.

a) Compliance with Ind AS

The Standalone Financial Statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards ("Ind AS") as notified under Section 133 of the Companies Act 2013, read with prescribed rules therein as amended from time to time. The Company has uniformly applied the accounting policies during the period presented.

The Standalone Financial Statements for the year ended March 31, 2026 are authorised and approved by the Board of Directors on May 27, 2026.

b) Historical cost convention

The Standalone Financial Statements have been prepared on going concern and accrual basis under the historical cost basis, except for the following:

- Certain financial assets and liabilities (including derivative instruments) and contingent consideration that are measured at fair value or amortized cost;
- Assets held for sale–measured at lower of carrying amount and fair value less cost to sell.
- Defined benefit plans – plan assets measured at fair value; and
- Share based payments which are measured at fair value of the options.

c) Current / Non-Current Classification

All the assets and liabilities have been classified as current or non-current as per the Company's normal operating cycle and other criteria set out in the Division II the Schedule III to the Act. An asset is treated as current when it is:

- Expected to be realised or intended to be sold in normal operating cycle; *
- Held primarily for purpose of trading;
- Intended for sale or consumption;
- Expected to be realised within twelve months after the reporting period; or
- Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is current when:

- It is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle;
- It is held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period; or
- There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

The Company classifies all other liabilities as non-current.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current assets and liabilities.

*Operating cycle is the time between acquisition of assets for processing and their realisation in cash and cash equivalents, the Company has ascertained its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of current or non-current classification of assets and liabilities.

3. Use of Material Accounting Estimates and Judgements

Estimates, assumptions concerning the future and judgements are made in the preparation of the financial statements. They affect the application of the Company's accounting policies, reporting amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expense and disclosures made. Although these estimates are based on management's best knowledge of current events and actions, actual result may differ from those estimates.

The critical accounting estimates and assumptions used and areas involving a high degree of judgements are described below:

3.1 Use of Estimation and Assumption

In the process of applying the entity's accounting policies, management had made the following estimation and assumptions that have the significant effect on the amounts recognized in the financial statements. The estimates and assumptions used in accompanying financial statements are based upon management's evaluation of the relevant facts and circumstances as on the date of the financial statements, reviewed on an ongoing basis. Any revision to accounting estimates is recognized prospectively in current and future periods.

a) Property, Plant and Equipment and Intangible Assets

Key estimates related to long-lived assets (property, plant and equipment and intangible assets) include useful lives, recoverability of carrying values and the existence of any retirement obligations. As a result of future decisions, such estimates could be significantly modified. The useful lives as mentioned in Note No. 4.1 and Note No. 4.2 is applied as per Schedule II of Companies Act, 2013 and estimated based upon our historical experience, technical estimates and industry information. These estimates include an assumption regarding periodic maintenance and an appropriate level of annual capital expenditures to maintain the assets.

b) Employee Benefits - Measurement of Defined Benefit Obligation (DBO)

Management assesses post-employment and other employee benefit obligations using the projected unit credit method based on actuarial assumptions which represent management's best estimates of the variables (such as standard rates of inflation, medical cost trends, mortality, discount rate and anticipation of future salary increases) that will determine the ultimate cost of providing post-employment and other employee benefits. Variation in these assumptions may significantly impact the DBO amount and the annual defined benefit expenses.

c) Income Taxes

The Company recognizes tax liabilities based upon self assessment as per the tax laws. When the final tax outcome of these matters is different from the amounts that were initially recognized, such differences will impact the income tax and deferred tax provisions in the period in which such determination is made.

3.2 Critical Judgements Made in Applying Accounting Policies

a) Revenue

The Company recognises revenue from contracts with customers based on a five-step model as per Ind AS 115 (Refer Note No. 4.18) which involves judgements such as identification of distinct performance obligation involves judgement to determine the deliverables and the ability of the customer to benefit independently from such deliverables. The management exercises judgement in determining whether the performance obligation is satisfied at a point in time or over a period of time. It considers indicators such as how customer consumes benefits as services are rendered or who controls the asset as it is being created or existence of enforceable right to payment for performance to date and alternate use of such product or service, transfer of significant risks and rewards to the customer, acceptance of delivery by the customer, etc.

Revenue from freight services is recognised over time using percentage-of-completion method. The management uses judgement to estimate the services provided as on reporting date as a proportion of total services provided which is used to determine the degree of the completion of the performance obligation.

b) Allowance for Doubtful Debts

The allowance for doubtful debts reflects management's estimate of losses inherent in its credit portfolio. This allowance is based on the Company's estimate of the losses to be incurred, which derives from past experience with similar receivables, current and historical past due amounts, write-offs and collections, the careful monitoring of portfolio credit quality and current and projected future economic conditions. if the present economic and financial situation of the Company's debtors with which the Company contracted were to deteriorate, resulting in an impairment of their ability to make payment, additional expected credit loss may be required.

c) Expected Credit Losses

Expected credit losses of the Company are based on an evaluation of the collectability of receivables. A considerable amount of judgement is required in assessing the ultimate realization of these receivables, including their current credit worthiness, past collection history of each customer and ongoing dealings with them. If the financial conditions of the counterparties with which the Company contracted were to deteriorate, resulting in an impairment of their ability to make payments, additional expected credit loss may be required.

d) Recognition of Deferred Tax Assets

The extent to which deferred tax assets can be recognized is based on an assessment of the probability of the future taxable income against which the deferred tax assets can be utilized. In addition, significant judgement is required in assessing the impact of any legal or economic limits or uncertainties in various tax jurisdictions.

e) Evaluation of Indicators for Impairment of Assets

The evaluation of applicability of indicators of impairment of assets requires assessment of several external and internal factors which could result in deterioration of recoverable amount of the assets.

f) Useful Life of Depreciable/Amortizable Assets

Management reviews its estimate of the useful lives of depreciable/amortizable assets at each reporting date, based on the expected utility of the assets. Uncertainties in these estimates relate to technical and economic obsolescence that may change the utility of certain software, IT equipment and other plant and equipment.

g) Defined Benefit Obligations (DBO)

Management's estimate of the DBO is based on a number of critical underlying assumptions such as standard rates of inflation, mortality, discount rate and anticipation of future salary increases. Variation in these assumptions may significantly impact the DBO amount and the annual defined benefit expenses.

h) Contingent liabilities

The Company is the subject of legal proceedings and tax issues which are pending in various jurisdictions. Due to the uncertainty inherent in such matters, it is difficult to predict the final outcome of such matters. In the normal course of business, management consults with legal counsel and certain other experts on matters related to litigation and taxes. The Company accrues a liability when it is determined that an adverse outcome is probable and the amount of the loss can be reasonably estimated.

i) Provisions

At the end of each reporting period on the basis of the management judgement, changes in facts and legal aspects, the Company assess the requirement of the provisions. However, the actual future outcome may different from this judgement.

j) Fair Value Measurements

Management applies valuation techniques to determine the fair value of financial instruments (where active market quotes are not available) and non-financial assets. This involves developing estimates and assumptions consistent with how market participants would price the instrument.

Management uses the best information available. Estimated fair values may vary from the actual prices that would be achieved in an arm's length transaction at the reporting date.

k) Leases

The Company determines the lease term as the non-cancellable term of the lease, together with any periods covered by an option to extend the lease if it is reasonably certain to be exercised, or any periods covered by an option to terminate the lease, if it is reasonably certain not to be exercised. The Company has several lease contracts that include extension and termination options. The Company applies judgement in evaluating whether it is reasonably certain or not to exercise the option to renew or terminate the lease. That considers all relevant factors that create an economic incentive for it to exercise either the renewal or termination. After the commencement date, the Company reassesses the lease term if there is a significant event or change in circumstances that is within its control and affects its ability to exercise or not to exercise the option to renew or to terminate.

3.3 Recent Pronouncements

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standard or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. On August 13, 2025, MCA notified the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Second Amendment Rules, 2025, applicable from April 1, 2026 as below:

Pursuant to the amendment to Ind AS 1 – Presentation of Financial Statements, where an entity breaches a loan covenant on or before the reporting date and the liability becomes payable on demand, it must be classified as current, even if the lender subsequently agrees not to demand repayment. It is classified as current because, at the reporting date, the entity does not have the right to defer settlement for at least 12 months. However, if the lender has already provided by the reporting date a grace period extending at least 12 months beyond that date, during which the breach can be rectified and repayment cannot be demanded, the liability is classified as non-current.

The Company have not early adopted any amendment that have been notified but are not yet effective.

This amendment is to be applied retrospectively for annual reporting periods beginning on or after April 1, 2026, in accordance with Ind AS 8, Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors. The Company does not expect a significant impact of this amendment on the Standalone Financial Statements.

3.4 Amended Standards Adopted by the Company

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standards or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time.

MCA notified the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendments Rules, 2025 on May 30, 2025, which is applicable to the the Company w.e.f. April 1, 2025.

Amendments to Ind AS 21 - Lack of Exchangeability

The amendment provides guidance on determining the exchange rate when a currency is not exchangeable into another currency. Where exchangeability is lacking, entities are required to estimate the spot exchange rate that would be used in an orderly transaction under prevailing economic conditions and disclose the estimation process, key inputs, and associated risks. The Company has reviewed the amendment and based on its evaluation, the Company has determined that it does not have any impact on its Standalone Financial Statements.

MCA notified the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Second Amendments Rules, 2025 on August 13, 2025, which is applicable to the Company w.e.f. April 1, 2025:

Amendments to Ind AS 1 – Classification of Liabilities as Current or Non-Current and Non-Current Liabilities with Covenants

The amendment relates to classification of liabilities as current and non current with covenants. In the context of classifying a liability as current, it removes the requirement of existence of right to defer settlement for atleast 12 months after the reporting date and instead requires that the said right should exist on the reporting date and have substance. The amendment also introduces guidance on classification of liabilities with covenants. The Company has no impact of these amendments in its classification criteria of current and non current liabilities.

Amendments to Ind AS 7 Statement of Cash Flows and Ind AS 107 Financial Instruments Disclosures– Supplier Finance Arrangement

The amendment in Ind AS 107 requires to inform users of Financial Statements of the existence of Supplier Finance Arrangements ("SFA") and explain the nature of the arrangements, the carrying amount of liabilities and range of payment due dates. Ind AS 107 has been amended to add SFA as a factor that may cause concentration of liquidity risk. The Company has reviewed the amendment and based on its evaluation, the amendments do not have any impact on the Standalone Financial Statements.

Amendments to Ind AS 12 Income Taxes- International Tax Reform–Pillar Two Model Rules

The amendment incorporates certain exceptions relating to the recognition and disclosures of deferred tax arising from implementation of the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development ("OECD") Pillar Two Model rules. The amendment had no impact on the Standalone Financial Statements as the Company is not in the scope of the Pillar Two model rules.

4. Material Accounting Policies

4.1 Property, Plant and Equipment and Depreciation

Initial Recognition

All items of property, plant and equipment are initially measured at cost. The cost of an item of plant and equipment is recognized as an asset if, and only if, it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably.

Cost includes its purchase price (after deducting trade discounts and rebates), import duties and non-refundable purchase taxes, any costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management, borrowing costs on qualifying assets and asset retirement costs.

The activities necessary to prepare an asset for its intended use or sale extend to more than just physical construction of the asset. It may also include technical (DPR, environmental, planning, Land acquisition and geological study) and administrative work such as obtaining approvals before the commencement of physical construction.

The cost of replacing a part of an item of property, plant and equipment is capitalized if it is probable that the future economic benefits of the part will flow to the Company and that its cost can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognized.

Costs of day-to-day repairs and maintenance costs are recognized into the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss as incurred.

Subsequent Measurement

Subsequent to recognition, property, plant and equipment are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses.

The carrying values of property, plant and equipment are reviewed for impairment when events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may not be recoverable.

The residual values, estimated useful lives and depreciation method are reviewed at each financial year-end, and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

Property, plant and equipment are stated at their cost of acquisition. The cost comprises purchase price, duties, freight charges, initial insurance charges, borrowing cost if capitalization criteria are met and any other directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for the intended use. Any trade discount and rebates are deducted in arriving at the purchase price.

Depreciation

Depreciation on property, plant and equipment is provided on the straight-line method arrived on the basis of the useful life prescribed under Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013 or based on useful life estimated on the technical assessment. The following useful life of assets has been taken by the Company.

Type of Assets	Useful Life
Building	60 Years
Building-leasehold improvements	Lease Term
Plant and machinery	15 Years
Furniture and fixtures	10 Years
Vehicles	8 Years
Office equipment	5 Years
Computers	3 Years

The residual values are not more than 5% of the original cost of the asset. The asset's residual values, useful lives and method of depreciation are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

Where, during any financial year, any addition has been made to any asset, or where any asset has been sold, discarded, demolished or destroyed, or significant components replaced; depreciation on such assets is calculated on a pro rata basis as individual assets with specific useful life from the date of such addition or, as the case may be, up to the date on which such asset has been sold, discarded, demolished or destroyed or replaced.

De-recognition

An item of property, plant and equipment and any significant part initially recognized is de-recognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on de-recognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss when the asset is derecognized.

Capital Work in Progress and Capital Advances

Cost of asset not ready for intended use and assets under installation or under construction as at the Balance Sheet date are shown as Capital Work in Progress. Advances given towards acquisition of Property, Plant and Equipment and Right-of-Use-Assets outstanding at each Balance Sheet date are disclosed as Other Non-Current Asset in accordance with Schedule III to the Companies Act, 2013.

4.2 Intangible Assets and Amortization

Initial Recognition

Intangible assets acquired separately are initially measured at cost. Intangible assets are recognized if and only if, it is probable that the future economic benefits that are attributable to the asset will flow to the Company and the cost of the asset can be measured reliably.

Cost of separately acquired intangible assets includes its purchase price (after deducting trade discounts and rebates), import duties and non-refundable purchase taxes, any costs directly attributable to preparing the asset for its intended use.

Subsequent Measurement and Amortization

Intangible assets are stated at cost of acquisition less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Subsequent expenditure related to an item of intangible assets are added to its book value only if they increase the future benefits from the existing asset beyond its previously assessed standard of performance.

The carrying values of intangible assets are reviewed for impairment when events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may not be recoverable.

The residual values, estimated useful lives and amortization method are reviewed at each financial year-end, and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

The useful lives of intangible assets are assessed as either finite or indefinite. Finite-life intangible assets are amortised on a straight-line basis over the period of their estimated useful lives. Estimated useful lives by major class of finite-life intangible assets are as follows.

The following useful lives are applied:

Intangible Assets	Method of Amortization	Estimated Useful life
Computer Software	on straight-line basis	over a period of 3 - 5years

The amortization expense is recognized in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss unless such expenditure forms part of carrying value of another asset.

Indefinite life intangible assets comprises of those assets for which there is no foreseeable limit to the period over which they are expected to generate net cash inflows. These are considered to have an indefinite life, given the strength and durability of the Company and the level of marketing support.

De-recognition

An item of Intangible Assets is de-recognized upon disposals or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on de-recognition of the asset is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the year, the asset is de-recognized.

For indefinite life intangible assets, the assessment of indefinite life is reviewed annually to determine whether it continues, if not, it is impaired or changed prospectively based on revised estimates.

4.3 Investment Property

Initial Recognition

Investment properties comprises of immovable properties that are held to earn rentals or for capital appreciation, or both. Investment properties are measured initially at their cost of acquisition, including transaction costs. The cost comprises purchase price, borrowing cost if capitalisation criteria are met and directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for the intended use. Any trade discount and rebates are deducted in arriving at the purchase price. Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company. All other repair and maintenance costs are recognised in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss as incurred.

Though the Company measures investment property using cost-based measurement, the fair value of investment property is disclosed in the notes. Fair values are determined based on an annual valuation performed by an accredited external independent valuer who holds a recognised and relevant professional qualification.

Subsequent Measurement (Depreciation and Useful Lives)

Depreciation on investment properties is provided on the straight-line method, computed on the basis of useful lives prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013. In case of leasehold properties, the same is depreciated over the lease term or useful life whichever is lower.

De-recognition

Investment properties are derecognised either when they have been disposed off or when they are permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefit is expected from their disposal. The difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset is recognized as other operating income in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss in the period of de-recognition.

4.4 Impairment of Non – Financial Assets

At each reporting date, the Company assesses whether there is any indication that an asset may be impaired. Where an indicator of impairment exists, the Company makes a formal estimate of recoverable amount. Where the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount.

Recoverable amount is the greater of fair value less costs to sell and value in use. It is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets, in which case, the recoverable amount is determined for the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

Impairment losses of continuing operations, including impairment on inventories, are recognized in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss, except for properties previously revalued with the revaluation surplus taken to OCI. For such properties, the impairment is recognized in OCI up to the amount of any previous revaluation surplus.

After impairment, depreciation or amortization is provided on the revised carrying amount of the asset over its remaining useful life.

The impairment assessment for all assets is made at each reporting date to determine whether there is an indication that previously recognized impairment losses no longer exist or have decreased. If such indication exists, the Company estimates the asset's or CGU's recoverable amount. A previously recognized impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognized. The reversal is limited so that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed its recoverable amount, nor exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognized in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss.

4.5 Financial Assets

Financial assets comprise of investments in equity and debt securities, mutual funds, loans, trade receivables, cash and cash equivalents and other financial assets.

Initial Recognition

All financial assets are recognized initially at fair value. However, trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component are measured at transaction price. Purchases or sales of financial asset that require delivery of assets within a time frame established by regulation or convention in the market place (regular way trades) are recognized on the trade date, i.e. the date that the Company commits to purchase or sell the assets.

Subsequent Measurement

a) Financial Assets Measured at Amortized Cost

Financial assets held within a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows and the contractual terms of the financial assets give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding are measured at amortised cost using effective interest rate (EIR) method. The EIR amortization is recognized as finance income in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

The Company while applying above criteria has classified the following at amortised cost:

- Loans
- Trade Receivable
- Cash and Cash Equivalents
- Other Financial Assets

b) Financial Assets at Fair Value Through Other Comprehensive Income (FVTOCI)

Financial assets held within a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows, selling the financial assets and the contractual terms of the financial assets give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding are measured at FVTOCI. Fair Value movements in financial assets at FVTOCI are recognized in other comprehensive income. Equity instruments held for trading are classified at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL). For other equity instruments the Company classifies the same either at FVTOCI or FVTPL on instrument to instrument basis. The classification is made on initial recognition and is irrevocable. Fair value changes on equity investments at FVTOCI, excluding dividends are recognized in other comprehensive income (OCI).

c) Financial Assets at Fair Value Through Profit or Loss (FVTPL)

Financial assets are measured at fair value through profit or loss if it does not meet the criteria for classification as measured at amortised cost or at fair value through other comprehensive income. All fair value changes are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

d) Investment in Subsidiaries, Joint Ventures and Associates are carried at cost in Standalone Financial Statements. However, a provision for diminution in value is made to recognised a decline other than temporary in value of the investments.

Impairment

Financial assets are tested for impairment based on the expected credit losses in accordance with Ind AS 109 on the following financial assets:

a) Trade Receivables

An impairment analysis is performed at each reporting date. The expected credit losses over life time of the asset are estimated by adopting the simplified approach using a provision matrix on its portfolio of trade receivables, which is based on historical loss rates reflecting current condition and forecasts of future economic conditions. In this approach assets are grouped on the basis of similar credit characteristics such as customer segment, past due status and other factors which are relevant to estimate the expected cash loss from these assets.

b) Other Financial Assets

Other financial assets are tested for impairment based on significant change in credit risk since initial recognition and impairment is measured based on probability of default over the life time when there is significant increase in credit risk.

De-recognition

A Financial Asset is Derecognized Only when:

- The Company has transferred the rights to receive cash flows from the financial asset or
- The contractual right to receive cash flows from financial asset is expired or
- Retains the contractual rights to receive the cash flows of the financial asset, but assumes a contractual obligation to pay the cash flows to one or more recipients.

Where the entity has transferred an asset and transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset, in such cases the financial asset is derecognized. Where the entity has neither transferred a financial asset nor retains substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset, the financial asset is also derecognized if the Company has not retained control of the financial asset.

4.6 Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash at bank (including deposits with banks with original maturity of three months or less) and cash in hand and short-term investments with an original maturity of three months or less. Deposits with banks are subsequently measured at amortized cost and short term investments are measured at fair value through Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss.

4.7 Share Capital

Equity Shares are classified as equity.

4.8 Financial Liabilities

Initial Recognition

Financial liabilities are recognized when, and only when, the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the financial instrument. The Company determines the classification of its financial liabilities at initial recognition. All financial liabilities are recognized initially at fair value plus any directly attributable transaction costs, such as loan processing fees and issue expenses.

Subsequent Measurement - at Amortised Cost

After initial recognition, financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. Gains and losses are recognized in Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss when the liabilities are de recognized, and through the amortization process.

De-recognition

A financial liability is de-recognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expired. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as a de recognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability, and the difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognized in Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss.

Offsetting of Financial Instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

4.9 Borrowing Costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalized as part of the cost of the respective asset. Capitalisation of borrowing cost is suspended in the period during which the active development is delayed due to other than temporary interruption. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period they occur. Borrowing costs consist of interest, exchange differences arising from foreign currency borrowings to the extent they are regarded as an adjustment to the interest cost and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds.

Investment income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalization.

4.10 Employee Benefits

Employee benefits are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss for the year.

Retirement benefits in the form of Provident Fund are defined contribution scheme and such contributions are recognized, when the contributions to the respective funds are due. There is no other obligation other than the contribution payable to the respective funds.

Gratuity liability is defined benefit obligation and is provided for on the basis of actuarial valuation on projected unit credit method made at the end of each financial year. Re measurement in case of defined benefit plans gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognized in the period in which they occur, directly in other comprehensive income and they are included in the Statement of Changes in Equity.

Compensated absences are provided for on the basis of actuarial valuation on projected unit credit method made at the end of each financial year. Re measurements as a result of experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognized in Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss.

The amount of Non-current and Current portions of employee benefits is classified as per the actuarial valuation at the end of each financial year.

4.11 Share Based Payments - Employee Stock Option Scheme

The Company has formulated an Employees Stock Option Scheme which provides that subject to continued employment with the Holding Company or the Company, employees of the Holding Company and its subsidiary are granted an option to acquire equity shares of the Holding Company that may be exercised within a specified period. The fair value of options granted under Employee Stock Option Plan is recognized as a Deferred employee stock option compensation with a corresponding increase in equity. The total amount to be expensed is determined by reference to the fair value of the options. The total expense is recognized over the vesting period, which is the period over which all of the specified vesting conditions are to be satisfied.

4.12 Income Taxes

Income tax expense is comprised of current and deferred taxes. Current and deferred tax is recognized in net income except to the extent that it relates to a business combination, or items recognized directly in equity or in other comprehensive income. Current income tax relating to items recognized outside profit and loss is recognized outside profit and loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Current income taxes for the current period, including any adjustments to tax payable in respect of previous years, are recognized and measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or payable to the taxation authorities based on the tax rates that are enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognized for temporary differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax base using the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the deferred tax asset or liability is expected to settle, based on the laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of reporting period.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognized if the temporary difference arises from goodwill or from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of other assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable income nor the accounting income. Deferred tax assets are generally recognized for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable income will be available against which they can be utilized. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and reduced accordingly to the extent that it is no longer probable that they can be utilized.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is legally enforceable right of offset current tax assets and liabilities when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority. Current tax asset and liabilities are offset where the entity has legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously. Deferred Tax relating to items recognized outside profit or loss is recognized outside profit and loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity).

4.13 Leases

A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

Company as a Lessee

The Company assesses whether a contract is or contains a lease, at inception of a contract. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Company assesses whether

(i) the contract involves the use of an identified asset,

(ii) the Company has substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the asset through the period of the lease, and

(iii) the Company has the right to direct the use of the asset.

The Company's Lease Assets Consist of the Following:

Asset Description	Useful Life
Leasehold Land	As per Lease period
Leasehold Building	As per Lease period

At date of commencement of leases, the Company recognized a right-of-use of asset (ROU) and a corresponding lease liability for all the lease arrangements, except for those with a term of twelve month or less (short term leases) and leases of low value assets. For these leases, the Company recognizes lease payments as an operating expense on straight line basis over the lease term.

Initial Measurement

ROU assets are initially measured at cost that comprises of the initial amount of lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or prior to the date of commencement, initial direct costs and lease incentives (if any).

Lease Liability is initially measured at the present value of future lease payments that are not paid at that date. The lease payments shall be discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if not readily determinable, incremental borrowing rate.

Subsequent Measurement

ROU assets are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment loss, if any. ROU is depreciated from the date of commencement on a straight-line basis over the shorter of lease term or useful life of the underlying asset.

Lease Liability is subsequently measured by increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest and reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made. The carrying amount of lease liability is remeasured to reflect any reassessment or lease modification such as change in lease term.

ROU asset and lease liability are separately presented in the balance sheet and lease payments have been classified as financing cash flows.

Company as a Lessor

Leases for which the Company is a lessor is classified as finance or operating lease. Leases in which the Company does not transfer substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an asset are classified as operating leases. Lease income from operating leases is recognized in the Standalone Statement of Proft and Loss income on a straight-line basis over the lease term unless the receipts are structured to increase in line with expected general inflation to compensate for the expected inflationary cost increases. The respective leased assets are included in the balance sheet based on their nature.

4.14 Provisions

A provision is recognized if, as a result of a past event the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation that can be estimated reliably, and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation. Provisions are measured at the present value of management's best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period.

The Company recognizes decommissioning provisions in the period in which a legal or constructive obligation is incurred. A corresponding decommissioning cost is added to the carrying amount of the associated property, plant and equipment, and it is depreciated over the estimated useful life of the asset.

4.15 Contingent Liabilities

Contingent Liability is Disclosed in case of:

- A present obligation arising from past events, when it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation;
- A present obligation arising from past events, when no reliable estimate is possible;
- A possible obligation arising from past events whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the Company where the probability of outflow of resources is not remote.

4.16 Contingent Assets

Contingent assets are not recognized but disclosed in the financial statements when an inflow of economic benefits is probable.

4.17 Fair Value Measurements

Company follows the following mentioned underneath hierarchy for determining fair values of its financial instruments:

- Level 1 – Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- Level 2 – Inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (prices) or indirectly (derived from prices); and
- Level 3 – Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data.

The fair value of financial instruments traded in active markets is based on quoted market prices at the reporting dates. A market is regarded as active if quoted prices are readily and regularly available from an exchange, dealer, broker, industry group, pricing service, or regulatory agency, and those prices represent actual and regularly occurring market transactions on an arm's length basis. The fair value for these instruments is determined using Level 1 inputs.

The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market (for example, over the counter derivatives) is determined by using valuation techniques. These valuation techniques maximize the use of observable market data where it is available and rely as little as possible on entity specific estimates. If all significant inputs required to fair value an instrument are observable, the instrument is fair valued using level 2 inputs.

If one or more of the significant inputs is not based on observable market data, the instrument is fair valued using Level 3 inputs. Specific valuation techniques used to value financial instruments include:

- Quoted market prices or dealer quotes for similar instruments.
- The fair value of interest rate swaps is calculated as the present value of the estimated future cash flows based on observable yield curves.

- The fair value of forward foreign exchange contracts is determined using forward exchange rates at the reporting dates, with the resulting value discounted back to present value.
- Other techniques, such as discounted cash flow analysis, are used to determine fair value for the remaining financial instruments.

4.18 Revenue Recognition

The Company derives revenues primarily from business of freight.

Revenue is recognized either at a point in time or over time, when (or as) the Company satisfies performance obligations by transferring the promised goods or services to its customers. The Company has concluded that it is the principal in all of its revenue arrangements since it is the primary obligor in all the revenue arrangements as it has pricing latitude and are custodian of goods and is also exposed to credit risks.

The Company recognizes revenue from contracts with customers based on a five-step model, such as to, identifying the contracts with a customer, identifying the performance obligations in the contract, determine the transaction price, allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract and recognize revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation at a point in time or over time.

The Company satisfies a performance obligation and recognizes revenue over time, if one of the following criteria is met:

- The customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Company's performance as the Company performs; or
- The Company's performance creates or enhances an asset that the customer controls as the asset is created or enhanced; or
- The Company's performance does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Company and the entity has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date.

For performance obligations where one of the above conditions are not met, revenue is recognized at the point in time at which the performance obligation is satisfied.

Revenue is recognized upon transfer of control of promised products or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration we expect to receive in exchange for those products or services.

Express Cargo Delivery Services: Revenue from services rendered is recognised, using percentage-of-completion-method, in proportion to the stage of completion of the transaction at the reporting date when the outcome of the transaction can be estimated reliably. Revenue is measured at fair value of the consideration received or receivable, after deduction of any trade discounts, volume rebates and any taxes or duties collected on behalf of the government which are levied on services such as Goods and Service Tax.

4.19 Other Income

Rental Income:

Income from rent is recognized over the period of the contract on straight line basis. Initial direct cost is expensed off when incurred.

Interest Income:

Interest income on fixed deposits is recognized on time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and rate applicable.

For all Financial Assets measured at amortised cost or at fair value through other comprehensive income, interest income is recorded using the effective interest rate (EIR) i.e. the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to the net carrying amount of the financial assets. The future cash flows include all other transaction costs paid or received, premiums or discounts if any, etc. Interest income recognised in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss.

Dividends:

Dividends are recognized in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss only when the right to receive payment is established.

Profit on Sale of Investments:

Profit on sale of financial instruments (measured at amortised cost or FVTOCI or through profit and loss) recognized in the Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss.

At each reporting date monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the exchange rate in effect at the date of the financial statement. The translation for other non-monetary assets and liabilities are not updated from historical exchange rates unless they are carried at fair value.

4.21 Earnings Per Share

Basic earnings per share are calculated by dividing the profit attributable to owners of the Company by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the financial year, adjusted for bonus elements in equity shares issued during the year and excluding treasury shares.

Diluted earnings per share adjust the figures used in the determination of basic earnings per share to take into account, the after income tax effect of interest and other financing costs associated with dilutive potential equity shares and the weighted average number of additional equity shares that would have been outstanding assuming the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares.

4.22 Segment Reporting

As the Company's main business activity falls within a single primary Business segment viz. "Express Cargo", provisions of Segment Reporting as per Ind AS 108 are not applicable.

Non adjusting events after the Balance Sheet date which are material in size or nature are disclosed separately in the Standalone Financial Statements.

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for financial instruments.

Level 2: The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market is determined using valuation techniques which maximise the use of observable market data rely as little as possible on entity specific estimates.

The management assessed that fair values of cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, other receivables, short term borrowings, trade payables and other current financial liabilities are approximate of their respective carrying amounts, largely due to the short-term maturities of these instruments. The fair value of the financial assets and liabilities is included in the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale.

The fair values of loans, security deposits, borrowings and other financial assets and liabilities are considered to be the same as their carrying values, as there is no material change in the lending rates.

iv) Valuation Process and Technique Used to Determine Fair Value

Specific valuation techniques used to value financial instruments include:

a) The use of quoted market prices or dealer quotes for similar instruments.

b) The fair value of the remaining financial instruments is determined based on the following methods:

i) Net assets value method

ii) Valuation of investment in unquoted equity shares has been made using the discounted cash-flow method and Net assets value method, as deemed fit by the Company's management.

Risk adjustments specific to the counterparties (including assumptions about credit default rates) are derived from credit risk grading determined by the Company's internal credit risk management group.

The Company's risk management is carried out by a central treasury department (of the Company) under policies approved by the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors provides written principles for overall risk management, as well as policies covering specific areas, such as foreign exchange risk, interest rate risk, credit risk and investment of excess liquidity.

A. Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that a counterparty fails to discharge its obligation to the Company. The Company's exposure to credit risk is influenced mainly by short term investments, trade receivables, cash and cash equivalents and other financial assets measured at amortised cost. The Company continuously monitors defaults of customers and other counterparties and incorporates this information into its credit risk controls.

Credit Risk Management

The finance function of the Company assesses and manages credit risk based on internal credit rating system. Internal credit rating is performed for each class of financial instruments with different characteristics. The Company assigns the following credit ratings to each class of financial assets based on the assumptions, inputs and factors specific to the class of financial assets.

A: No risk

B: Low risk

C: Moderate risk

D: High risk

Financial Assets That Exposes the Entity to Credit Risk

Credit Rating	Particulars	As at March 31, 2026	As at March 31, 2025
No Risk	Cash and cash equivalents	11.46	10.51
No Risk	Bank balances other than cash and cash equivalents	3.93	3.58
No Risk	Investments	158.84	161.66
Low Risk	Trade receivables	238.63	225.80

The risk parameters are same for all financial assets for all period presented. The Company considers the probability of default upon initial recognition of asset and whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk on an on-going basis throughout each reporting period. In general, it is presumed that credit risk has significantly increased since initial recognition if the payments are more than 90 days past due. A default on a financial asset is when the counterparty fails to make contractual payments when they fall due. This definition of default is determined by considering the business environment in which entity operates and other macro-economic factors.

Cash and Cash Equivalents and Bank Term Deposits

The Company's exposure to credit risk on cash and cash equivalents and bank term deposits is limited, as these balances are maintained only with banks and financial institutions having high credit ratings assigned by recognized credit rating agencies.

Investments

Majority of the Company's investments are fair valued based on Level 1 inputs. These investment primarily include investment in Mutual Funds, Quoted Bonds issued by well established and reputed organisations engaged in their respective field of business. The Company invest after considering counterparty risks based on multiple criteria including credit rating, profitability and deposit base of banks and financial institutions.

Trade Receivables

The Company closely monitors the credit-worthiness of the debtors through IT driven internal systems that are configured to define credit limits of customers, thereby, limiting the credit risk to pre-calculated amounts and stipulated days. Moreover, given the diverse nature of the Company's businesses trade receivables are spread over a number of customers with no significant concentration of credit risk. No single customer accounted for 3% or more of the trade receivables in any of the years presented. The Company assesses increase in credit risk on an ongoing basis for amounts receivable that become past due and default is considered to have occurred when amounts receivable become one year past due.

We have audited the accompanying Consolidated Financial Statements of TCI Express Limited (hereinafter referred to as "the Holding Company"), its subsidiaries (the Holding Company and its subsidiaries together referred to as "the Group"), which comprise the Consolidated Balance Sheet as at 31st March 2026, the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss (including other comprehensive income), the Consolidated Statement of Changes in Equity and the Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows for the year then ended, and notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements, including a summary of the material accounting policies and other explanatory information (hereinafter referred to as "the Consolidated Financial Statements").

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid Consolidated Financial Statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013, as amended ("the Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in India including the Indian Accounting Standards prescribed under section 133 of the Act read with Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended ("Ind AS"), of the consolidated state of affairs of the Group, as at 31st March 2026, of its consolidated profit (including other comprehensive income), its consolidated changes in equity and its consolidated cash flows for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements in accordance with the Standards on Auditing ("SAs") specified under section 143(10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those SAs are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group, in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI") together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion on the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Emphasis of Matter

Attention is invited to Note No. 37 to the Consolidated Financial Statements, in respect of GST Demand on account of GST payable on reverse charge mechanism by the Holding Company, amounting to INR 51.36 Crores along with applicable interest and penalty. Consequent to the demand raised, the Holding Company had preferred an appeal before the Office of the Commissioner (Appeals) on 12th March 2025. This appeal has since been rejected vide order dated 30th December 2025. As represented by the management of the Holding Company, and based on the underlying facts, the Holding Company intends to prefer an appeal with the Appellate Authority. The management is confident of prevailing against the department's position and does not anticipate any adverse financial outcome, accordingly, no adjustments are envisaged in the financial Statements for the year ended 31st March 2026.

Our Opinion is not modified in respect of the above matter.

Key Audit Matters

Key Audit Matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of the most significance in our audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements of the financial year ended 31st March 2026. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. We have determined following matters as Key Audit Matters to be communicated in our report:

Key Audit Matter	Auditor's Response
Revenue recognition and measurement including related cost of rendering of services involves critical judgments by management including assessment of when the control of goods or services are being transferred, and determining if such obligations are satisfied over a period of time. Other Information

The Holding Company's Board of Directors are responsible for the preparation of the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Holding Company's Annual Report, but does not include the Consolidated Financial Statements and our auditors' report thereon.

Our opinion on the Consolidated Financial Statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the Consolidated Financial Statements, or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information; we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Management's Responsibilities for the Consolidated Financial Statements

The Holding Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation and presentation of these Consolidated Financial Statements that give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position, consolidated financial performance, consolidated total comprehensive income, consolidated changes in equity and consolidated cash flows of the Group, in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India including Ind AS specified under section 133 of the Act. The respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group are responsible for maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Group, and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the Consolidated Financial Statements give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the Consolidated Financial Statements, the respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group are responsible for assessing the ability of the Group to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless Board of Directors either intends to liquidate the Group, or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group are also responsible for overseeing the financial reporting process of the Group.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Consolidated Financial Statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these Consolidated Financial Statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

(a) Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the Consolidated Financial Statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

(b) Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Group has adequate internal financial controls with reference to Consolidated Financial Statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.

(c) Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

(d) Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of the Group to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the Consolidated Financial Statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group, to cease to continue as a going concern.

(e) Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the Consolidated Financial Statements, including the disclosures, and whether the Consolidated Financial Statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

(f) Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group, to express an opinion on the Consolidated Financial Statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of the financial statements of Holding Company of which we are the independent auditors. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatement in the Consolidated Financial Statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the Consolidated Financial Statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of the work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the Consolidated Financial Statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance of the Holding Company of which we are the independent auditors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements of the financial year ended 31st March 2026 and are therefore Key Audit Matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's reports unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The Group has uniformly applied the accounting policies during the period presented.

- Certain financial assets and liabilities (including derivative instruments) and contingent consideration that are measured at fair value or amortized cost.;
- Assets held for sale – measured at lower of carrying amount and fair value less cost to sell.

All the assets and liabilities have been classified as current or non-current as per the Group's normal operating cycle and other criteria set out in the Division II the Schedule III to the Act. An asset is treated as current when it is:

- Expected to be realised or intended to be sold in normal operating cycle; *

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current assets and liabilities.

*Operating cycle is the time between acquisition of assets for processing and their realisation in cash and cash equivalents, the Group has ascertained its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of current or non-current classification of assets and liabilities.

3. Use of Material Accounting Estimates and Judgements

Estimates, assumptions concerning the future and judgements are made in the preparation of the financial statements. They affect the application of the Group's accounting policies, reporting amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expense and disclosures made. Although these estimates are based on management's best knowledge of current events and actions, actual result may differ from those estimates.

The critical accounting estimates and assumptions used and areas involving a high degree of judgements are described below:

3.1 Use of Estimation and Assumption

In the process of applying the entity's accounting policies, management had made the following estimation and assumptions that have the significant effect on the amounts recognized in the financial statements. The estimates and assumptions used in accompanying financial statements are based upon management's evaluation of the relevant facts and circumstances as on the date of the financial statements, reviewed on an ongoing basis. Any revision to accounting estimates is recognized prospectively in current and future periods.

a) Property, Plant and Equipment and Intangible Assets

Key estimates related to long-lived assets (property, plant and equipment and intangible assets) include useful lives, recoverability of carrying values and the existence of any retirement obligations. As a result of future decisions, such estimates could be significantly modified. The useful lives as mentioned in Note No. 4.2 and Note No. 4.3 is applied as per Schedule II of Companies Act, 2013 and estimated based upon our historical experience, technical estimates and industry information. These estimates include an assumption regarding periodic maintenance and an appropriate level of annual capital expenditures to maintain the assets.

b) Employee Benefits - Measurement of Defined Benefit Obligation (DBO)

Management assesses post-employment and other employee benefit obligations using the projected unit credit method based on actuarial assumptions which represent management's best estimates of the variables (such as standard rates of inflation, medical cost trends, mortality, discount rate and anticipation of future salary increases) that will determine the ultimate cost of providing post-employment and other employee benefits. Variation in these assumptions may significantly impact the DBO amount and the annual defined benefit expenses.

c) Income Taxes

The Group recognizes tax liabilities based upon self assessment as per the tax laws. When the final tax outcome of these matters is different from the amounts that were initially recognized, such differences will impact the income tax and deferred tax provisions in the period in which such determination is made.

3.2 Critical Judgements Made in Applying Accounting Policies

a) Revenue

The Group recognises revenue from contracts with customers based on a five-step model as per Ind AS 115 (Refer Note No. 4.19) which involves judgements such as identification of distinct performance obligation involves judgement to determine the deliverables and the ability of the customer to benefit independently from such deliverables. The management exercises judgement in determining whether the performance obligation is satisfied at a point in time or over a period of time It considers indicators such as how customer consumes benefits as services are rendered or who controls the asset as it is being created or existence of enforceable right to payment for performance to date and alternate use of such product or service, transfer of significant risks and rewards to the customer, acceptance of delivery by the customer, etc.

Revenue from freight services is recognised over time using percentage-of-completion method. The management uses judgement to estimate the services provided as on reporting date as a proportion of total services provided which is used to determine the degree of the completion of the performance obligation.

b) Allowance for Doubtful Debts

The allowance for doubtful debts reflects management's estimate of losses inherent in its credit portfolio. This allowance is based on the Group's estimate of the losses to be incurred, which derives from past experience with similar receivables, current and historical past due amounts, write-offs and collections, the careful monitoring of portfolio credit quality and current and projected future economic conditions. if the present economic and financial situation of the Group's debtors with which the Group contracted were to deteriorate, resulting in an impairment of their ability to make payment, additional expected credit loss may be required.

c) Expected Credit Losses

Expected credit losses of the Group are based on an evaluation of the collectability of receivables. A considerable amount of judgement is required in assessing the ultimate realization of these receivables, including their current credit worthiness, past collection history of each customer and ongoing dealings with them. If the financial conditions of the counterparties with which the Group contracted were to deteriorate, resulting in an impairment of their ability to make payments, additional expected credit loss may be required.

d) Recognition of Deferred Tax Assets

The extent to which deferred tax assets can be recognized is based on an assessment of the probability of the future taxable income against which the deferred tax assets can be utilized. In addition, significant judgement is required in assessing the impact of any legal or economic limits or uncertainties in various tax jurisdictions.

e) Recognition of Deferred Tax Liabilities on Undistributed Profits

The extent to which the Group can control the timing of reversal of deferred tax liability on undistributed profits of its subsidiaries requires judgement.

f) Evaluation of Indicators for Impairment of Assets

The evaluation of applicability of indicators of impairment of assets requires assessment of several external and internal factors which could result in deterioration of recoverable amount of the assets.

g) Useful Life of Depreciable/Amortizable Assets

Management reviews its estimate of the useful lives of depreciable/amortizable assets at each reporting date, based on the expected utility of the assets. Uncertainties in these estimates relate to technical and economic obsolescence that may change the utility of certain software, IT equipment and other plant and equipment.

h) Defined Benefit Obligation (DBO)

Management's estimate of the DBO is based on a number of critical underlying assumptions such as standard rates of inflation, mortality, discount rate and anticipation of future salary increases. Variation in these assumptions may significantly impact the DBO amount and the annual defined benefit expenses.

i) Contingent Liabilities

The Group is the subject of legal proceedings and tax issues which are pending in various jurisdictions. Due to the uncertainty inherent in such matters, it is difficult to predict the final outcome of such matters. In the normal course of business, management consults with legal counsel and certain other experts on matters related to litigation and taxes. The Group accrues a liability when it is determined that an adverse outcome is probable and the amount of the loss can be reasonably estimated.

j) Provisions

At the end of each reporting period on the basis of the management judgement, changes in facts and legal aspects, the Group assess the requirement of the provisions. However, the actual future outcome may different from this judgement.

k) Fair Value Measurements

Management applies valuation techniques to determine the fair value of financial instruments (where active market quotes are not available) and non-financial assets. This involves developing estimates and assumptions consistent with how market participants would price the instrument. Management uses the best information available. Estimated fair values may vary from the actual prices that would be achieved in an arm's length transaction at the reporting date.

l) Leases

The Group determines the lease term as the non-cancellable term of the lease, together with any periods covered by an option to extend the lease if it is reasonably certain to be exercised, or any periods covered by an option to terminate the lease, if it is reasonably certain not to be exercised. The Group has several lease contracts that include extension and termination options. The Group applies judgement in evaluating whether it is reasonably certain or not to exercise the option to renew or terminate the lease. That considers all relevant factors that create an economic incentive for it to exercise either the renewal or termination. After the commencement date, the Group reassesses the lease term if there is a significant event or change in circumstances that is within its control and affects its ability to exercise or not to exercise the option to renew or to terminate.

3.3 Recent Pronouncements

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standard or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. On August 13, 2025, MCA notified the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Second Amendment Rules, 2025, applicable from April 1, 2026 as below:

Pursuant to the amendment to Ind AS 1 – Presentation of Financial Statements, where an entity breaches a loan covenant on or before the reporting date and the liability becomes payable on demand, it must be classified as current, even if the lender subsequently agrees not to demand repayment. It is classified as current because, at the reporting date, the entity does not have the right to defer settlement for at least 12 months. However, if the lender has already provided by the reporting date a grace period extending at least 12 months beyond that date, during which the breach can be rectified and repayment cannot be demanded, the liability is classified as non-current.

The Group have not early adopted any amendment that have been notified but are not yet effective. This amendment is to be applied retrospectively for annual reporting periods beginning on or after April 1, 2026, in accordance with Ind AS 8, Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors. The Group does not expect a significant impact of this amendment on the Consolidated Financial Statements.

3.4 Amended Standards Adopted by the Group

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standards or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time.

MCA notified the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendments Rules, 2025 on May 30, 2025, which is applicable to the the Group w.e.f. April 1, 2025:

Amendments to Ind AS 21 - Lack of Exchangeability

The amendment provides guidance on determining the exchange rate when a currency is not exchangeable into another currency. Where exchangeability is lacking, entities are required to estimate the spot exchange rate that would be used in an orderly transaction under prevailing economic conditions and disclose the estimation process, key inputs, and associated risks. The Group has reviewed the amendment and based on its evaluation, the the Group has determined that it does not have any impact on its Consolidated Financial Statements.

MCA notified the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Second Amendments Rules, 2025 on August 13, 2025, which is applicable to the Group w.e.f. April 1, 2025:

Amendments to Ind AS 1 – Classification of Liabilities as Current or Non-Current and Non-Current Liabilities with Covenants

The amendment relates to classification of liabilities as current and non current with covenants. In the context of classifying a liability as current, it removes the requirement of existence of right to defer settlement for atleast 12 months after the reporting date and instead requires that the said right should exist on the reporting date and have substance. The amendment also introduces guidance on classification of liabilities with covenants. The Group has no impact of these amendments in its classification criteria of current and non current liabilities.

Amendments to Ind AS 7 Statement of Cash Flows and Ind AS 107 Financial Instruments Disclosures- Supplier Finance Arrangement

The amendment in Ind AS 107 requires to inform users of Financial Statements of the existence of Supplier Finance Arrangements ("SFA") and explain the nature of the arrangements, the carrying amount of liabilities and range of payment due dates. Ind AS 107 has been amended to add SFA as a factor that may cause concentration of liquidity risk. The Group has reviewed the amendment and based on its evaluation, the amendments do not have any impact on the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Amendments to Ind AS 12 Income Taxes- International Tax Reform–Pillar Two Model Rules

The amendment incorporates certain exceptions relating to the recognition and disclosures of deferred tax arising from implementation of the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development ("OECD") Pillar Two Model rules. The amendment had no impact on the Consolidated Financial Statements as the Group is not in the scope of the Pillar Two model rules.

4. Material Accounting Policies

4.1 Basis of Consolidation

Subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are all entities (including structured entities) over which the Group has control. The Group controls an entity when the Group is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power to direct the relevant activities of the entity. Subsidiaries are fully consolidated from the date on which control is transferred to the Group. They are deconsolidated from the date that control ceases. Profit or loss and other comprehensive income ('OCI') of subsidiaries acquired or disposed of during the period are recognized from the effective date of acquisition, or up to the effective date of disposal, as applicable. All the consolidated subsidiaries have a consistent reporting date of March 31, 2026.

The Group combines the financial statements of the parent and its subsidiaries line by line adding together like items of assets, liabilities, equity, income and expenses. Intergroup transactions, balances and unrealised gains on transactions between group companies are eliminated. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the transferred asset. Accounting policies of subsidiaries have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.

Non-controlling interests, presented as part of equity, represent the portion of a subsidiary's profit or loss and net assets that is not held by the Group. Profit or loss and each component of OCI are attributed to the equity holders of the Holding Company and to the non-controlling interests, even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance. The Group attributes total comprehensive income or loss of subsidiaries between the owners of the parent and the non-controlling interests based on their respective ownership interests.

The group treats transactions with non-controlling interests that do not result in a loss of control as transactions with equity owners of the group. A change in ownership interest results in an adjustment between the carrying amounts of the controlling and non-controlling interests to reflect their relative interests in the subsidiaries.

Any difference between the amount of the adjustment to non-controlling interests and any consideration paid or received is recognized within equity.

Business Combinations

The Group applies the acquisition method in accounting for business combinations. The consideration transferred by the Group to obtain control of a subsidiary is calculated as the sum of the acquisition-date fair values of assets transferred, liabilities incurred and the equity interests issued by the Group, which includes the fair value of any asset or liability arising from a contingent consideration arrangement. Acquisition costs are expensed as incurred.

Identifiable assets acquired and liabilities and contingent liabilities assumed in a business combination are measured initially at their acquisition date fair values.

Goodwill is initially measured at cost, being the excess of the aggregate of the consideration transferred and the amount recognized for noncontrolling and any previous interest held, over the net identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed. If the fair value of the net assets acquired is in excess of the aggregate consideration transferred, the difference is recognized in OCI and accumulated in equity as capital reserve. However, if there is no clear evidence of bargain purchase, the entity recognizes the gain directly in equity as capital reserve, without routing the same through OCI.

Where settlement of any part of cash consideration is deferred, the amount payable in the future is discounted to their present value as at the date of exchange. The discount rate used is the Group's incremental borrowing rate, being the rate at which the similar borrowing could be obtained from an independent financier under comparable terms and condition.

Contingent consideration is classified either as equity or financial liability. Amount classified as financial liability are subsequently re-measured to fair value with changes in fair value recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Business combinations involving entities or businesses under common control have been accounted for using the pooling of interest's method. The assets and liabilities of the combining entities are reflected at their carrying amounts. No adjustments have been made to reflect fair values, or to recognize any new assets or liabilities except changes made to harmonize the accounting policies.

4.2 Property, Plant and Equipment and Depreciation

Initial Recognition

All items of property, plant and equipment are initially measured at cost. The cost of an item of plant and equipment is recognized as an asset if, and only if, it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably.

Cost includes its purchase price (after deducting trade discounts and rebates), import duties and non-refundable purchase taxes, any costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management, borrowing costs on qualifying assets and asset retirement costs.

The activities necessary to prepare an asset for its intended use or sale extend to more than just physical construction of the asset. It may also include technical (DPR, environmental, planning, land acquisition and geological study) and administrative work such as obtaining approvals before the commencement of physical construction.

The cost of replacing a part of an item of property, plant and equipment is capitalized if it is probable that the future economic benefits of the part will flow to the Group and that its cost can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognized.

Costs of day-to-day repairs and maintenance costs are recognized into the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss as incurred.

Subsequent Measurement

Subsequent to recognition, property, plant and equipment are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses.

The carrying values of property, plant and equipment are reviewed for impairment when events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may not be recoverable.

The residual values, estimated useful lives and depreciation method are reviewed at each financial year-end, and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

Property, plant and equipment are stated at their cost of acquisition. The cost comprises purchase price, duties, freight charges, initial insurance charges, borrowing cost if capitalization criteria are met and any other directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for the intended use. Any trade discount and rebates are deducted in arriving at the purchase price.

Depreciation

Depreciation on property, plant and equipment is provided on the straight-line method arrived on the basis of the useful life prescribed under Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013 or based on useful life estimated on the technical assessment. The following useful life of assets has been taken by the Group.

Type of Assets	Useful Life
Building	60 Years
Building -leasehold improvements	Lease Term
Plant and machinery	15 Years
Furniture and fixtures	10 Years
Vehicles	8 Years
Office equipment	5 Years
Computers	3 Years

The residual values are not more than 5% of the original cost of the asset. The asset's residual values, useful lives and method of depreciation are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

Where, during any financial year, any addition has been made to any asset, or where any asset has been sold, discarded, demolished or destroyed, or significant components replaced; depreciation on such assets is calculated on a pro rata basis as individual assets with specific useful life from the date of such addition or, as the case may be, up to the date on which such asset has been sold, discarded, demolished or destroyed or replaced.

De-recognition

An item of property, plant and equipment and any significant part initially recognized is de-recognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on de-recognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss when the asset is derecognized.

Capital Work in Progress and Capital Advances

Cost of asset not ready for intended use and assets under installation or under construction as at the Balance Sheet date are shown as Capital Work in Progress. Advances given towards acquisition of Property, Plant and Equipments and Right-of-Use-Assets outstanding at each Balance Sheet date are disclosed as Other Non-Current Asset in accordance with Schedule III to the Companies Act, 2013.

4.3 Intangible Assets and Amortization

Initial Recognition

Intangible assets acquired separately are initially measured at cost. Intangible assets are recognized if and only if, it is probable that the future economic benefits that are attributable to the asset will flow to the Group and the cost of the asset can be measured reliably.

Cost of separately acquired intangible assets includes its purchase price (after deducting trade discounts and rebates), import duties and non-refundable purchase taxes, any costs directly attributable to preparing the asset for its intended use.

Subsequent Measurement and Amortization

Intangible assets are stated at cost of acquisition less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Subsequent expenditure related to an item of intangible assets are added to its book value only if they increase the future benefits from the existing asset beyond its previously assessed standard of performance.

The carrying values of intangible assets are reviewed for impairment when events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may not be recoverable.

The residual values, estimated useful lives and amortization method are reviewed at each financial year-end, and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate

The useful lives of intangible assets are assessed as either finite or indefinite. Finite-life intangible assets are amortised on a straight-line basis over the period of their estimated useful lives. Estimated useful lives by major class of finite-life intangible assets are as follows:

Intangible Assets	Method of Amortization	Estimated Useful life
Computer Software	on straight-line basis	over a period of 3 - 5years

The amortization expense is recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss unless such expenditure forms part of carrying value of another asset.

Indefinite life intangible assets comprises of those assets for which there is no foreseeable limit to the period over which they are expected to generate net cash inflows. These are considered to have an indefinite life, given the strength and durability of the Group and the level of marketing support.

De-recognition

An item of Intangible Assets is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on de recognition of the asset is recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Profit or Loss in the year the asset is derecognized.

For indefinite life intangible assets, the assessment of indefinite life is reviewed annually to determine whether it continues, if not, it is impaired or changed prospectively based on revised estimates.

4.4 Investment Property

Initial Recognition

Investment properties comprises of immovable properties that are held to earn rentals or for capital appreciation, or both. Investment properties are measured initially at their cost of acquisition, including transaction costs. The cost comprises purchase price, borrowing cost if capitalisation criteria are met and directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for the intended use. Any trade discount and rebates are deducted in arriving at the purchase price. Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group. All other repair and maintenance costs are recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss as incurred.

Though the Group measures investment property using cost-based measurement, the fair value of investment property is disclosed in the notes. Fair values are determined based on an annual valuation performed by an accredited external independent valuer who holds a recognised and relevant professional qualification.

Subsequent Measurement (Depreciation and Useful Lives)

Depreciation on investment properties is provided on the straight-line method, computed on the basis of useful lives prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013. In case of leasehold properties, the same is depreciated over the lease term or useful life whichever is lower

De-recognition

Investment properties are derecognised either when they have been disposed off or when they are permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefit is expected from their disposal. The difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset is recognized as other operating income in the consolidated statement of profit and loss in the period of de-recognition.

4.5 Impairment of Non – Financial Assets

At each reporting date, the Group assesses whether there is any indication that an asset may be impaired. Where an indicator of impairment exists, the Group makes a formal estimate of recoverable amount. Where the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount.

Recoverable amount is the greater of fair value less costs to sell and value in use. It is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets, in which case, the recoverable amount is determined for the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

Impairment losses of continuing operations, including impairment on inventories, are recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss, except for properties previously revalued with the revaluation surplus taken to OCI. For such properties, the impairment is recognized in OCI up to the amount of any previous revaluation surplus.

After impairment, depreciation or amortization is provided on the revised carrying amount of the asset over its remaining useful life.

The impairment assessment for all assets is made at each reporting date to determine whether there is an indication that previously recognized impairment losses no longer exist or have decreased. If such indication exists, the

Group estimates the asset's or CGU's recoverable amount. A previously recognized impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognized. The reversal is limited so that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed its recoverable amount, nor exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss

4.6 Financial Assets

Financial assets comprise of investments in equity and debt securities, mutual funds, loans, trade receivables, cash and cash equivalents and other financial assets.

Initial Recognition

All financial assets are recognized initially at fair value. However, trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component are measured at transaction price. Purchases or sales of financial asset that require delivery of assets within a time frame established by regulation or convention in the market place (regular way trades) are recognized on the trade date, i.e., the date that the Group commits to purchase or sell the assets.

Subsequent Measurement

a) Financial Assets Measured at Amortized Cost

Financial assets held within a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows and the contractual terms of the financial assets give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding are measured at amortised cost using effective interest rate (EIR) method. The EIR amortization is recognized as finance income in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

The Group while applying above criteria has classified the following at amortised cost:

- Loans
- Trade Receivable
- Cash and Cash Equivalents
- Other Financial Assets

b) Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI):

Financial assets held within a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows, selling the financial assets and the contractual terms of the financial assets give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding are measured at FVTOCI. Fair Value movements in financial assets at FVTOCI are recognized in other comprehensive income. Equity instruments held for trading are classified at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL). For other equity instruments the Group classifies the same either at FVTOCI or FVTPL on instrument to instrument basis. The classification is made on initial recognition and is irrevocable. Fair value changes on equity investments at FVTOCI, excluding dividends are recognized in other comprehensive income (OCI).

c) Financial Assets at Fair Value Through Profit or Loss (FVTPL)

Financial assets are measured at fair value through profit or loss if it does not meet the criteria for classification as measured at amortised cost or at fair value through other comprehensive income. All fair value changes are recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

d) Investment in Joint Ventures and Associates are carried at cost in Consolidated Financial Statements. However, a provision for diminution in value is made to recognised a decline other than temporary in value of the investments.

Impairment

Financial assets are tested for impairment based on the expected credit losses in accordance with Ind AS 109 on the following financial assets:

a) Trade Receivables

An impairment analysis is performed at each reporting date. The expected credit losses over life time of the asset are estimated by adopting the simplified approach using a provision matrix on its portfolio of trade receivables, which is based on historical loss rates reflecting current condition and forecasts of future economic conditions. In this approach assets are grouped on the basis of similar credit characteristics such as customer segment, past due status and other factors which are relevant to estimate the expected cash loss from these assets.

b) Other financial assets

Other financial assets are tested for impairment based on significant change in credit risk since initial recognition and impairment is measured based on probability of default over the life time when there is significant increase in credit risk.

De-recognition

A financial asset is derecognized only when:

- The Group has transferred the rights to receive cash flows from the financial asset or
- The contractual right to receive cash flows from financial asset is expired or
- Retains the contractual rights to receive the cash flows of the financial asset, but assumes a contractual obligation to pay the cash flows to one or more recipients.

Where the entity has transferred an asset and transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset, in such cases the financial asset is derecognized. Where the entity has neither transferred a financial asset nor retains substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset, the financial asset is also derecognized if the Group has not retained control of the financial asset.

4.7 Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash at bank (including deposits with banks with original maturity of three months or less) and cash in hand and short-term investments with an original maturity of three months or less. Deposits with banks are subsequently measured at amortized cost and short term investments are measured at fair value through statement of profit and loss account.

4.8 Share Capital

Equity Shares are classified as equity.

4.9 Financial Liabilities

Initial Recognition

Financial liabilities are recognized when, and only when, the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the financial instrument. The Group determines the classification of its financial liabilities at initial recognition. All financial liabilities are recognized initially at fair value plus any directly attributable transaction costs, such as loan processing fees and issue expenses.

Subsequent Measurement - At Amortised Cost

After initial recognition, financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. Gains and losses are recognized in Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss when the liabilities are de recognized, and through the amortization process.

De-recognition

A financial liability is de recognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expired. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as a de recognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability, and the difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Offsetting of Financial Instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

4.10 Borrowing Costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalized as part of the cost of the respective asset. Capitalisation of borrowing cost is suspended in the period during which the active development is delayed due to other than temporary interruption. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period they occur. Borrowing costs consist of interest, exchange differences arising from foreign currency borrowings to the extent they are regarded as an adjustment to the interest cost and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds.

Investment income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalization.

4.11 Employee Benefits

Employee benefits are charged to the Consolidated Statement of Profit or Loss for the year.

Retirement benefits in the form of Provident Fund are defined contribution scheme and such contributions are recognized, when the contributions to the respective funds are due. There is no other obligation other than the contribution payable to the respective funds.

Gratuity liability is defined benefit obligation and is provided for on the basis of actuarial valuation on projected unit credit method made at the end of each financial year. Re measurement in case of defined benefit plans gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognized in the period in which they occur, directly in other comprehensive income and they are included in the statement of changes in equity.

Compensated absences are provided for on the basis of actuarial valuation on projected unit credit method made at the end of each financial year. Re measurements as a result of experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss account.

The amount of Non-current and Current portions of employee benefits is classified as per the actuarial valuation at the end of each financial year.

4.12 Share Based Payments - Employee Stock Option Scheme

The Holding Company has formulated an Employees Stock Option Scheme which provides that subject to continued employment with the Holding Company, employees of the Holding Company are granted an option to acquire equity shares of the Holding Company that may be exercised within a specified period. The fair value of options granted under Employee Stock Option Plan is recognized as a Deferred employee stock option compensation with a corresponding increase in equity. The total amount to be expensed is determined by reference to the fair value of the options. The total expense is recognized over the vesting period, which is the period over which all of the specified vesting conditions are to be satisfied.

4.13 Income Taxes

Income tax expense is comprised of current and deferred taxes. Current and deferred tax is recognized in net income except to the extent that it relates to a business combination, or items recognized directly in equity or in other comprehensive income. Current income tax relating to items recognized outside profit and loss is recognized outside profit and loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Current income taxes for the current period, including any adjustments to tax payable in respect of previous years, are recognized and measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or payable to the taxation authorities based on the tax rates that are enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognized for temporary differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax base using the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the deferred tax asset or liability is expected to settle, based on the laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of reporting period.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognized if the temporary difference arises from goodwill or from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of other assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable income nor the accounting income.

Deferred tax assets are generally recognized for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable income will be available against which they can be utilized. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and reduced accordingly to the extent that it is no longer probable that they can be utilized.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is legally enforceable right of offset current tax assets and liabilities when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority. Current tax asset and liabilities are offset where the entity has legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously. Deferred Tax relating to items recognized outside profit or loss is recognized outside profit and loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity).

4.14 Leases

A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

Group as a Lessee

The Group assesses whether a contract is or contains a lease, at inception of a contract. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Group assesses whether

(i) the contract involves the use of an identified asset

(ii) the Group has substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the asset through the period of the lease, and

(iii) the Group has the right to direct the use of the asset

The Group's Lease Assets Consist of the Following:

Asset Description	Useful Life
Leasehold Land	As per Lease period
Leasehold Building	As per Lease period

At date of commencement of leases, the Group recognized a right -of-use of asset (ROU) and a corresponding lease liability for all the lease arrangements, except for those with a term of twelve month or less (short term leases) and leases of low value assets. For these leases, the Group recognizes lease payments as an operating expense on straight line basis over the lease term.

Initial Measurement

ROU assets are initially measured at cost that comprises of the initial amount of lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or prior to the date of commencement, initial direct costs and lease incentives (if any).

Lease Liability is initially measured at the present value of future lease payments that are not paid at that date. The lease payments shall be discounted using the interest the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if not readily determinable, incremental borrowing rate.

Subsequent Measurement

ROU assets are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment loss, if any. ROU is depreciated from the date of commencement on a straight-line basis over the shorter of lease term or useful life of the underlying asset.

Lease Liability is subsequently measured by increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest and reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made. The carrying amount of lease liability is remeasured to reflect any reassessment or lease modification such as change in lease term.

ROU asset and lease liability are separately presented in the balance sheet and lease payments have been classified as financing cash flows.

Group as a lessor

Leases for which the Group is a lessor is classified as finance or operating lease. Leases in which the Group does not transfer substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an asset are classified as operating leases. Lease income from operating leases is recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss income on a straight-line basis over the lease term unless the receipts are structured to increase in line with expected general inflation to compensate for the expected inflationary cost increases. The respective leased assets are included in the balance sheet based on their nature.

4.15 Provisions

A provision is recognized if, as a result of a past event the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation that can be estimated reliably, and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation. Provisions are measured at the present value of management's best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period.

The Group recognizes decommissioning provisions in the period in which a legal or constructive obligation is incurred. A corresponding decommissioning cost is added to the carrying amount of the associated property, plant and equipment, and it is depreciated over the estimated useful life of the asset.

4.16 Contingent Liabilities

Contingent Liability is Disclosed in case of:

- A present obligation arising from past events, when it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation;
- A present obligation arising from past events, when no reliable estimate is possible;
- A possible obligation arising from past events whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the Group where the probability of outflow of resources is not remote.

4.17 Contingent Assets

Contingent assets are not recognized but disclosed in the financial statements when an inflow of economic benefits is probable.

4.18 Fair Value Measurements

Group follows the following mentioned underneath hierarchy for determining fair values of its financial instruments:

- Level 1 – Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- Level 2 – Inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (prices) or indirectly (derived from prices); and
- Level 3 – Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data.

The fair value of financial instruments traded in active markets is based on quoted market prices at the reporting dates. A market is regarded as active if quoted prices are readily and regularly available from an exchange, dealer, broker, industry group, pricing service, or regulatory agency, and those prices represent actual and regularly occurring market transactions on an arm's length basis. The fair value for these instruments is determined using Level 1 inputs.

The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market (for example, over the counter derivatives) is determined by using valuation techniques. These valuation techniques maximize the use of observable market data where it is available and rely as little as possible on entity specific estimates. If all significant inputs required to fair value an instrument are observable, the instrument is fair valued using level 2 inputs.

If one or more of the significant inputs is not based on observable market data, the instrument is fair valued using Level 3 inputs. Specific valuation techniques used to value financial instruments include:

- Quoted market prices or dealer quotes for similar instruments
- The fair value of interest rate swaps is calculated as the present value of the estimated future cash flows based on observable yield curves
- The fair value of forward foreign exchange contracts is determined using forward exchange rates at the reporting dates, with the resulting value discounted back to present value
- Other techniques, such as discounted cash flow analysis, are used to determine fair value for the remaining financial instruments.

4.19 Revenue Recognition

The Group derives revenues primarily from business of freight.

Revenue is recognized either at a point in time or over time, when (or as) the Group satisfies performance obligations by transferring the promised goods or services to its customers. The Group has concluded that it is the principal in all of its revenue arrangements since it is the primary obligor in all the revenue arrangements as it has pricing latitude and are custodian of goods and is also exposed to credit risks.

The Group recognizes revenue from contracts with customers based on a five-step model, such as to, identifying the contracts with a customer, identifying the performance obligations in the contract, determine the transaction price, allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract and recognize revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation at a point in time or over time.

The Group satisfies a performance obligation and recognizes revenue over time, if one of the following criteria is met:

- The customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Group's performance as the Group performs; or
- The Group's performance creates or enhances an asset that the customer controls as the asset is created or enhanced; or
- The Group's performance does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Group and the entity has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date.

For performance obligations where one of the above conditions are not met, revenue is recognized at the point in time at which the performance obligation is satisfied.

Revenue is recognized upon transfer of control of promised products or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration we expect to receive in exchange for those products or services.

Express cargo delivery services: Revenue from services rendered is recognised, using percentage -of -completion- method, in proportion to the stage of completion of the transaction at the reporting date when the outcome of the transaction can be estimated reliably. Revenue is measured at fair value of the consideration received or receivable, after deduction of any trade discounts, volume rebates and any taxes or duties collected on behalf of the government which are levied on services such as Goods and Service Tax.

4.20 Other Income

Rental Income

Income from rent is recognized over the period of the contract on straight line basis. Initial direct cost is expensed off when incurred.

Interest Income

Interest income on fixed deposits is recognized on time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and rate applicable.

For all Financial Assets measured at amortised cost or at fair value through other comprehensive income. Interest income is recorded using the effective interest rate (EIR) i.e. the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to the net carrying amount of the financial assets. The future cash flows include all other transaction costs paid or received, premiums or discounts if any, etc. Interest income recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Dividends

Dividends are recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss only when the right to receive payment is established.

Profit on Sale of Investments

Profit on sale of financial instruments (measured at amortised cost or FVTOCI or through profit and loss) recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

4.21 Foreign Currency Transactions

Functional and Presentation Currency

The Consolidated Financial Statements are presented in Indian Rupees (INR/₹), which is also the Group's functional and presentation currency of the Group.

Transactions and Balances

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated to the functional currency of the Group, at exchange rates in effect at the transaction date. At each reporting date monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the exchange rate in effect at the date of the financial statement. The translation for other non-monetary assets and liabilities are not updated from historical exchange rates unless they are carried at fair value.

4.22 Earnings Per Share

Basic earnings per share are calculated by dividing the profit attributable to owners of the Group by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the financial year, adjusted for bonus elements in equity shares issued during the year and excluding treasury shares.

Diluted earnings per share adjust the figures used in the determination of basic earnings per share to take into account, the after income tax effect of interest and other financing costs associated with dilutive potential equity shares and the weighted average number of additional equity shares that would have been outstanding assuming the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares.

4.23 Segment Reporting

As the Group's main business activity falls within a single primary Business segment viz. "Express Cargo", provisions of Segment Reporting as per Ind AS 108 are not applicable.

4.24 Events after Reporting Date

Where events occurring after the Balance Sheet date provide evidence of conditions that existed at the end of the reporting period, the impact of such events is adjusted within the Consolidated Financial Statements. Non adjusting events after the Balance Sheet date which are material in size or nature are disclosed separately in the Consolidated Financial Statements.

(i) The management assessed that fair values of cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, other receivables, short term borrowings, trade payables and other current financial liabilities are approximate of their respective carrying amounts, largely due to the short-term maturities of these instruments. The fair value of the financial assets and liabilities is included in the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale.

(ii) The fair values of loans, security deposits, borrowings and other financial assets and liabilities are considered to be the same as their carrying values, as there is no material change in the lending rates.

iv) Valuation process and technique used to determine fair value

Specific valuation techniques used to value financial instruments include:

a) The use of quoted market prices or dealer quotes for similar instruments.

b) The fair value of the remaining financial instruments is determined based on the following methods:

i) Net assets value method

ii) Valuation of investment in unquoted equity shares has been made using the Discounted cash-flow method and Net assetsvalue method, as deemed fit by the Group's management.

Risk adjustments specific to the counterparties (including assumptions about credit default rates) are derived from credit risk grading determined by the Group's internal credit risk management group.

The Group's risk management is carried out by a central treasury department (of the Group) under policies approved by the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors provides written principles for overall risk management, as well as policies covering specific areas, such as foreign exchange risk, interest rate risk, credit risk and investment of excess liquidity.

A. Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that a counterparty fails to discharge its obligation to the Group. The Group's exposure to credit risk is influenced mainly by short term investments, trade receivables, cash and cash equivalents and other financial assets measured at amortised cost. The Group continuously monitors defaults of customers and other counterparties and incorporates this information into its credit risk controls.

Credit Risk Management

The finance function of the Group assesses and manages credit risk based on internal credit rating system. Internal credit rating is performed for each class of financial instruments with different characteristics. The Group assigns the following credit ratings to each class of financial assets based on the assumptions, inputs and factors specific to the class of financial assets.

A: No risk

B: Low risk

C: Moderate risk

D: High risk

Financial Assets That Exposes the Entity to Credit Risk

Credit Rating	Particulars	As at March 31, 2026	As at March 31, 2025
No Risk	Cash and cash equivalents	16.11	11.75
No Risk	Bank balances other than cash and cash equivalents	3.93	3.58
No Risk	Investments	123.90	148.37
Low Risk	Trade receivables	238.65	225.89

The risk parameters are same for all financial assets for all period presented. The Group considers the probability of default upon initial recognition of asset and whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk on an on-going basis throughout each reporting period. In general, it is presumed that credit risk has significantly increased since initial recognition if the payments are more than 90 days past due. A default on a financial asset is when the counterparty fails to make contractual payments when they fall due. This definition of default is determined by considering the business environment in which entity operates and other macro-economic factors.

Cash and Cash Equivalents and Bank Term Deposits

Credit risk related to cash and cash equivalents and bank term deposits is managed by only accepting highly rated banks assigned by credit rating agencies.

Investments

Majority of the Group's investments are fair valued based on Level 1 inputs. These investment primarily include investment in liquid mutual fund units, quoted bonds issued by quasi-government organisations. The Group invest after considering counterparty risks based on multiple criteria including credit rating, profitability and deposit base of banks and financial institutions.

Trade Receivables

The Group closely monitors the credit-worthiness of the debtors through IT driven internal systems that are configured to define credit limits of customers, thereby, limiting the credit risk to pre-calculated amounts and stipulated days. Moreover, given the diverse nature of the Group's businesses trade receivables are spread over a number of customers with no significant concentration of credit risk. No single customer accounted for 3% or more of the trade receivables in any of the years presented. The Group assesses increase in credit risk on an ongoing basis for amounts receivable that become past due and default is considered to have occurred when amounts receivable become one year past due.

Other Financial Assets Measured at Amortised Cost

Other financial assets measured at amortised cost includes security deposits and others. Credit risk related to these other financial assets is managed by monitoring the recoverability of such amounts continuously

Financial Assets Are Considered to Be of Good Quality and There is No Significant Increase in Credit Risk

C. Price Risk

The Group's exposure to price risk arises from investments measured at Fair Value Through Other Comprehensive Income (FVOCI) or Fair Value Through Profit or Loss (FVTPL). The Group manages this risk by maintaining a diversified investment portfolio across various asset classes and continuously monitoring market conditions and the performance of its investments.

The table below presents the sensitivity in the fair value of investments. The sensitivity analysis has been prepared on the assumption that the market prices of the securities increase or decrease by 1%, with all other variables remaining constant. It is further assumed that the prices of all securities move uniformly by the same percentage. The impact of such changes on profit or loss or other comprehensive income depends on the classification of the investments as FVTPL or FVOCI.

Particulars	As at March 31, 2026	As at March 31, 2025

The Group's policy is to minimise interest rate cash flow risk exposures on long-term and short term financing.

Sensitivity Analysis

An increase/decrease of 100 basis points in interest rate at the end of the reporting period for the variable financial instruments would (decrease)/increase proft after taxation for the year by the amounts shown below. This analysis assumes all other variables remain constant.
